BIG PROGRAM FOR NEW LEGISLATURE

Many Matters of Importance to Come Before Indiana Solons.

DEMOCRATS HAVE COMPLETE CONTROL

Cities Arrayed Against Rural Communities on Option Issue.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 10.—With all doubts removed as to the political complexion of the Indiana legislature, attention is being called to the legislative program that may be enacted during the session this winter. The democrats will be in absolute control, with a working majority of not fewer than 33 on joint ballot.

Probably not since the state constitution was adopted has there been as many matters of great concern to come up for disposal at a single session as there will be this year. Among the things to be considered are the election of a United States senator; the re-districting of the state for the members of congress; the re-districting of the state for the election of senators and representatives of the state legislature; the ratification or rejection of a proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States to permit a federal tax to be levied on incomes, and possible changes in the liquor legislation of the state. To these questions may be added others as the legislative program unfolds.

Probable Option Line-Up.

It is admitted already that the question of the repeal of the county local option law will be one of the important things to be taken up by the legislature and it is declared that members of both parties from rural communities will oppose the repeal of the law, while those members from the cities, it is said, are almost a unit in favor of the repeal.

During the excitement of the campaign little was heard or said about the re-districting of the state for congressional or legislative purposes, yet there is great political advantage to be gained in making such an apportionment.

One of the most important acts of

PARIS PRESS CALLS IT REBUKE TO ROOSEVELT

French Newspapers Discuss American Election Results.

Paris, Nov. 0.—The Frech press continues today its comment upon results of the American elections and directs attention to the international signilicance of the democratic successes as presaging lower tariffs in the United States and the consequent opening up of a bigger market for the products of Europe.

The Figaro in the course of an extended review of the returns expresses the opinion that the result was "a crushing defeat for Mr. Roosevelt to be explained in part by his abuse of his popularity and partly by the country's apprehensions that in his overpowering ambitions loomed a danger to the democracy paving a way to an autocracy, a one-man power, and perhaps a life presidency."

The Royalist Gaulois thinks that the Catholic clergy influenced the check on Mr. Roosevelt because of the unpleasant incident with the vatican when the colonel refused to accept certain terms as conditional to an audience with the pope.

GOODFELLOW SALOON ROBBED.

"Butch" Stalder and John Burton are Held for Vagrancy.

Leroy "Butch" Stalder and John Burton were arrested by Detective Sergeant Pappert and are being held while the police are investigating the robbery of James Goodfellow's saloon on West Main street last night. A glass was broken in the back door and about $5 taken. Neither of the men had any money when they were picked up. The only evidence the police have is that one of the thieves was cut and left blood stains on the glass and Stalder has a fresh wound on one of his hands.

The population of state of Florida is 751,130, an increase of 222,907 or 42.1 per cent. over 528,542 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 137,120 or 35 per cent.

Dr .K. L. Seaman will go to Kokomo Sunday.

Governors of Illinois and Missouri Join in Ceremony.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Governor Hadley, of Missouri, and Governor Deneen, of Illinois, dedicated the Illinois traction system's new bridge over the Mississippi river here today in the presence of three thousand invited guests. Archbishop J. J. Glennon, of St. Louis, blessed the new structure, which is known as the McKinley bridge, and Dean C. K. Davis, of the Episcopal church, delivered the invocation.

Tonight a fireworks display and a banquet will be given by the owners of the bridge.

DENEEN SEES SON OPERATED ON

Governor's Boy Undergoes Treatment for Throat Trouble.

Culver, Ind., Nov. 10.—Governor Charles S. Deneen, of Illinois, yesterday watched his son undergo a surgical operation for throat trouble at the Culver Military academy, where young Deneen is a cadet. The operation was successful. The governor left for Chicago last night after being assured that his son's condition is satisfacory.

Stephens.

WILL SHARE IN BIG CASH LOAN TO CHINA

French, English and German Banks to Join American Syndicate.

London, Nov. 10.—An agreement was signed today by which English, German and French banks will participate in the loan of $50,000,000 which an American syndicate will make to China.

Representatives of the European banks and of the syndicate have been in conference on the matter since yesterday.

The agreement provides also for the co-operation of the signatories in the matter of future loans to the Chinese government and mutual participation therein.

The banks concerned are the Morgan houses, the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking company, the bank of Indo-China and the Dutch East Aslatic bank.

WILL TAKE TURKISH LOAN.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—The Deutsche bank is at the head of a syndicate of all the principal German and Austrian banks, including the Rothschilds, which will take the Turkish loan of px7,000,000 Turkish (approximately $31,500,000). The price is 84, with interest at four per cent.

The loan will be sured by the custom revenues at Constantinople.

Germany secures the Ottoman loan after the failure of negotiations with Great Britain and France. In September it was announced Sir Ernest Cassel had undertaken to float the loan in England on guarantees which the French government had considered insufficient. In deferrence to France, political influence was exerted to the end that the English groups of financiers abandoned the project. Turkey then resumed negotiations with France and in October it was officially announced from Paris that the loan had been consummated. However, a few days later there was a hitch over the guarantees required by France and the negotiations were abruptly terminated. It was then that Turkey turned to Germany.

The loan, it is said, is desired chiefly for the development of the Turkish army and navy and it is understood one of the obstacles to placing the loan in France or England was the reputed intention of Turkey to use the funds secured in the purchase of war materials in Germany.

BATTLE FOR MISS DIETZ.

Sensational Scene Occurs in Hospital at Ashland, Wis.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 10.—A sensational scene took place at St. Joseph's hospital today in which an attempt by Milwaukee sympathizers to remove Myra Dietz was frustrated. George Schultes, president of the Dietz defense fund of Milwaukee, arrived at Ashland last night and announced his intention to remove Miss Dietz from the hospital to Hayward and thence to Milwaukee. He claimed to have authority from the arents and clans prevented Miss Dietz' removal. Deputy sheriffs and hospital physician sprevented Miss Dietz' removal.

Schultes said he will go to Hayward, arrange bond, and return here and get Miss Dietz.

FOUR WOMEN ELECTED.

Denver, Col., Nov. 10.—Four women will sit in the eighteenth general assembly of Colorado as a result of Tuesday's elections. They are Alma Lafferty, Louise U. Jones and Louise M. Kerwin, all elected representatives from Denver districts on the democratic ticket, and Agnes Riddle, republican, representing Adams, Arapahoe and Elbert counties. In the last general assembly Mrs. Lafferty, who was re-elected, was the only woman representative.

LIKELY TO TAKE OTHER SIDE NOW

Cannon Crowd Will Probably Vote to Take Power from Speaker.

INSURGENTS WILL RENEW THE FIGHT

Democratic House Faces a Difficult Problem to Keep Harmony.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Another contest over the question of taking from the speaker the power to name standing committees is expected to develop soon after the house of representatives assembles next month. This time it is not unlikely the movement will receive the support of Speaker Cannon and his allies, inasmuch as the next assignments will be mae by the democrats.

Interviews with Representatives Murdock, of Kansas, and Norris, of Nebraska, indicate that they intend to lose no time in reopening the fight waged by insurgent republicans last session, which re-formed the rules and deposed Speakr Cannon from membership on the rules committee. That contest was won by insurgent and democratic coalition. It is not known what the attitude of the democrats will be in the coming session when an effort is made to still further shear the speakership of its great authority, but the chances are they will seek to force the battle over to the succeeding session, when they will be in undisputed control.

May Wreck Harmony Hope.

Some members of the house who are now here believe that if the power to appoint committees is taken away from the democratic speaker in the Sixty-second congress and handed over to the house members all hope of harmony in the democratic ranks may be abandoned. It would mean the upsetting of the seniority rule and the turning down of many men of long service who have been the minority ranking members of the most powerful committees.

CORKWELL WILL NOT BE UNDER ANY RESTRAINT

Will Give Bond for His Appearance—Accepted at Easthaven.

If the arrangements under way can be carried out by Judge R. K. Erwin, attorney for Benjamin T. Corkwell, the motorman on whose shoulders the Wells county authorities have placed the responsibility for the Kingsland trolley wreck will not be in custody when he is admitted to the hospital for insane at Richmond.

Sheriff A. M. Reichelderfer received notice from the authorities at East-Haven this morning that Corkwell has been accepted at the institution but Judge Erwin asked that he be allowed to remain here a day or two so that he can furnish a bond of $1,000 asked of him on the indictment charging him with manslaughter.

The judge said that the patient's condition is improvinx daily and that the doctors in attendance think he will recover. In event he does and the authorities at East Haven conclude later that he can be safely discharged he will not be taken into custody but can leave the institution whenever his mental condition will admit of it.

It is not believed that any trouble will be experienced in securing bondsmen and members of Corkwell's family expect that if he is sent to Richmond it will be only a short time until he can be discharged.

CRISIS SEEMS NEAR IN NEW YORK STRIKE

State and Federal Authorities Likely to Mix in Struggle.

New York, Nov. 10.—Possibilities of a clash today between state and federal authorities over strike complications intensified interest in all developments of the warfare between men and companies. A hint of state arbitration was the only peace note sounded.

The seizure under Mayor Gaynor's authority, of express company wagons by unlicensed drivers, offered an opening of which it was believed the companies would speedily take advantage to bring matters to a head. It was intimated that the process of injunction would be involved by them to prevent further seizures.

It has been held that the express drivers must be licensed and applications for licenses for several hundred strike-breakers have been held up because, it is declared, there has been a general failure on the part of individuals given as reference to come forward and vouch for the suitability of the applicants. Practically all the licensed drivers of the companies are on strike, and a nearly complete cessation of traffice will be caused if the city enforces the policy of seizing unlicensed wagons. It looked to-day as if a crisis in the strike were at hand.

Besides nearly 10,000 drivers and helpers of the express company and delivery concerns, between 2,000 and 3,000 taxicab drivers are on strike. Express business is virtually at a standstill.

No General Strike Yet.

A general strike of teamsters in sympathy with the men now out is still imminent, but there seemed to be a disposition to await today's developments and possibly those of tomorrow before taking steps toward effecting a general tie up. The first move to tie up an established passenger transportation line since the strike started occured this forenoon when 62 chauffeurs of the Fifth Avenue Coach company, which operates the line of motor busses, went out on strike.

Simultaneously there was an important accession to the strikers ranks when 250 drivers of one of the big coal companies struck. This was looked upon as a possible initiation of a general walk out of drivers which has been treatened. Later in the day the whole bus force of the Fifth Avenue company, both conductors and chauffeurs, to the number of 200 had gone on strike.

John Dawson and Michael Cashal, representing the coal drivers union, said that by night all the coal drivers of the greater city, numbering probably 1,500 will have gone out. Secretary Charles W. Forester, of the International brotherhood of teamsters, announced today that 1,200 union chauffeurs had returned to work. All of the smaller companies empolying 50 men or less, have signed the union agreement with the exception of one. That leaves two companies whose men are still on strike.

Precipitates a Shooting.

The sending out of a wagon today by one of the big grocery firms whose employes are on strike was speedily followed by a shooting. The driver of the wagon, J. Back, was attacked as soon as the wagon appeared on the street. All kinds of missiles were hurled at him, but he managed to keep his assailants off for some time by liberal use of his whip. When the crowd began to press him harder the man drew a revolver and began firing toward members of the mob who were climbing into the truck from the rear. One bullet glanced on the sidewalk and struck Charles J. Polk, a tailor, over the right eye. When Polk was hurried

COMPANY TOOK $625 AND SETTLED A CLAIM

Metropolitan Recedes from Position—News of the City Hall.

A telegram was received from the Metropolitan Engineering and construction company in which it agreed to accept $625 in full payment of its claim against the city for repairs at the reservoir and the city agreed to pay this and save litigation that was threatened.

When inspectors of the company were here a week ago they said they would take nothing less than $2,000 but the members of the board of works told them flatly that this was excessive in view of the fact that the work was imperfect and of no benefit. When the matter was put before the company officers they wired their proposition to the board and it was taken up.

LIKELY TO HAVE A VERY IMPORTANT BEARING

Question of Anti-Trust Law as Criminal Measure Before Court.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law as a means of administering criminal punishment of conspiracies in restraint of interstate commerce, came today before the supreme court of the United States for oral argument. It is expected the determination of the question involved may have some bearing on the dissolution proceedings under the same law against the Standard Oil and tobacco corporations, now awaiting argument before the same court.

The question of the interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law as a criminal measure arose in the indictment of Gustav O. Kissel, of New York, and Thomas B. Harned, of Philadelphia, together with the American Sugar Refining company and others on a charge of conspiracy to drive the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company out of business in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The indictment found in 1909 charged that the conspiracy was entered into in 1903. Kissel and Harned pleaded that the statute of limitation forbade their prosecution, and the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York sustained that objection to the indictment.

The case came to the supreme court largely on a dispute as to what "conspiracy," as referred to in the Sherman anti-trust law, means. The United States, through the late Solicitor General Lloyd W. Bowers, submitted a brief to show that a conspiracy is a continuing affair.

Joseph H. Choate, formerly American ambassador to England, and associate council, have filed a brief in support of the argument that a conspiracy is non-continuous, but suggesting that it can be renewed upon the committing of an overt act in furtherance of the conspiracy. They claim that no overt act took place within three years of the time that the indictment was brought against Kissel and Harned and therefore that the lower court was correct in holding the statute of limitations forbade the prosecution.

PRESIDENT TAFT OFF FOR PANAMA

Wants to Get in Closer Touch With Canal Conditions.

WILL MAKE SOME RECOMMENDATIONS

Leaves Charleston Aboard the Armored Cruiser Tennessee.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 10.—President Taft sailed this morning for the Isthmus of Panama to get in personal touch with conditions along the big canal. Mr. Taft visited the isthmus just before his inauguration in 1909, but since then various executive and engineering problems have arisen and congress soon must frame legislation as to rates of toll, forms of government, the regulation of the sale of coal, the disposition of the Panama railroad and many other things. The president expects to make various recommendations regarding the canal at the coming short session of congress.

Mr. Taft sailed on the armored cruiser Tennessee with the cruiser Montana as convoy. Both cruisers have a speed of 22 knots and will make the trip to Colon in four days. Mr. Taft expects to be on the isthmus four days and is due back in Charleston November 22. He will stop over a few hours in Richmond on the 23rd and be back in Washington that afternoon. The president's special squadron is under the command of Rear Admiral Staunton, with the Tennessee as flag ship. Admiral Staunton, Captain Quimby, of the Montana, and Rear Admiral Fox, commanding the Charleston navy yard, were at the depot to greet the president when he arrived this morning.

The president and members of his party were driven to the home of Mayor Rhett for breakfast. Later the president review groups of white and colored school children. Mr. Taft went aboard the Tennessee's launch at the custom house wharf. As he made his way up the starboard gangway of the big gray cruiser, his flag was run up and he was received with a ruffle of drums, a blare of trumpets and all the ceromonies accorded the commander-in-chief of the American armed forces.

The president is making a purely business trip to Panama and accompanied only by his brother, Charles P. Taft, Secretary Norton, two aides, a physician and stenographer.

DEAD IN DISASTER MAY NOW REACH 75 OR 80

Long Line of Bodies in the Temporary Morgue Grows Rapidly.

Delagua, Col., Nov. 10.—Nine more charred and mangled bodies were found in No. 3 mine of the Victor American Fuel company early today, bringing the list of dead to 64. It is now thought the list may reach 75 or 80.

The long list of bodies in the temporary morgue of the Victor American Fuel company grew fast this morning. The bodies of fifty of the dead, including that of Llewellyn Evans, pit boss, had been removed from the mine at 10 o'clock. Fire broke out near the place the explosion originated shortly after midnight and the rescue parties were rushed in to check it before the last bides could be removed.

Arrangements were made today to attack the fallen rock under which Superintendent Wm Lewis and foremen in the mine are buried. All night men worked on the cave-in from the surface, believing they were nearing the bodies.

State Mine Inspector John Jones and J. C. Roberts, of the government mine rescue car, entered the mine this morning to make a thorough inspection and determine if possible the cause of the explosion.

NOBODY ON HAND TO FIGHT GRANT OF LICENSES

Remonstrators Did Not Appear Before Board—The Courts.

When the remonstrances against granting liquor licenses to Roy Merriman and William Rodenbeck were called in the commissioners' court today, nobody appeared to sustain objections to granting them liquor licenses and the board had nothing left but to approve the applications.

Objection was made in each instance that the men who sought the licenses were not to be the bona fide owners of the saloons they proposed to open, but there was no evidence offered to sustain this, although the commissioners heard the men, who testified that they were not seeking licenses for outsiders.

WOMEN GIVEN BEST OF IT BY THE POLICE

Judge Thinks Bagnios Get Too Much Protection—Arrests Needed.

In dealing with the cases of two young men, who gave the names of Thomas Brown and Andrew Lauer, in the city court today, Judge Frank Mungovan fined each of them $10 and costs for associating with women of ill repute and stated afterward that in his opinion keepers and inmates of bagnios are getting the best of it in the matter of arrests. He tacked on ten-day jail sentences in each instance, but suspended them.

The young fellows, according to the police, went to one of the houses of ill fame and struck the keeper over the head with a beer bottle and say that only the "rats" in her hair saved her from serious injury. Patrolmen Madden and Junk gave chase and captured both after a long run. "I think these women are to blame in many of these cases and I don't feel like sending young men to jail on their account unless the cases are aggravated. They get too much protection.

"Where there is a fight in one of these places the whole house ought to be pulled and then I would be in better position to judge who is at fault. None of the women ever have to appear in court and I don't think this is fair."

Promised To Be Good.

Norman Knisely cried all night in his cell and this morning when he answered a charge of drunkenness he furnished 15 minutes of excellent amusement for the court and attaches. He is 40, but solemnly promised that if the judge would let him go he would hike back to his job in a Bourbon drug store and be a good boy as long as he lives. The boy end of the story sounded funny as he is 40. The judge suggested that a jail sentence might do him good and the poor fellow nearly collapsed.

Billie Burke was let go on a charge of drunkenness under the promise that he would keep sober.

the lower house of the state legislature will be the election of the speaker and already a number are being mentioned for the honor, among them Joseph Cravens, Jefferson county; Edwin Corr, Brown and Monroe counties; Emmett Mitchell, Clarke and Washington counties. All three are well known. Cravens served as a member of the house some years ago and Corr has served in the senate, while Mitchell was a member of the house at the last session.

M. C. Thornton, of Floyd county; Harry D. Strickland, of Hancock county, and John B. Faulkner, of Laporte county, are also named as candidates for the speakership.

Beveridge Gives It Up.

Senator Beveridge, who hitherto had refused to acknowledge his defeat on reports made to him, last night admitted that the tide was against him. He wrote the following statement:

"Fortune of war; it is all right; twelve years of hard work; clean record; I am content."

It was conceded last night that the democratic state ticket was elected by a plurality of about 15,000. Late in the day, when returns were coming in from republican counties, Gulley, republican, candidate for secretary of state, took the lead over Ellingham, democrat, and for a time it was thought the republican ticket might come out victorious. Last night, however, Gulley's lead was overcome and passed.

Of the thirteen Indiana members in the national house of representatives, twelve will be democrats, Edgar Dean Crumpacker, of the Tenth district, being the only republican elected.

Nothing Further to Say.

Senator Beveridge today said he had no statement other than the one he gave out last night regarding the outcome of Tuesday's election. He did not appear at all downhearted or worried over the result, but greeted his callers in his usual happy manner.

Senator Beveridge has written a letter to John W. Kern, congratulating him on the result of the election. He has received many telegrams from all over the country expressing regret at his defeat for re-election, but he said he would not make them public. He will answer all of them.

Lack of interest caused the defeat of the proposed amendment to the constitution, prescribing educational qualification for the admittance of attorneys to the bar in Indiana. Few voters, it is said, voted either way on the amendment, thus causing its defeat.

away to a hospital the seriousness of his injury had not been determined.

Buck escaped the crowd, but was arrested on his return to the stables.

The drivers' license question seemed to be in process of at least partial solution later in the day, when the license bureau of the mayor's office issued licenses for thirty wagons of the National Express company. The American Express company applied for licenses for 150 wagons and they were immediately granted. It was found that Polk, the man struck by a bullet in one of the morning disturbances wa snot seriously injured. No other serious disorders were reported up to early afternoon.

WASHINGTON GETS NEWS.

Press Reports of Anti-American Demonstration Confirmed.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Official dispatches giving details of the anti-American demonstration in Mexico City yesterday reached the state department today from United States Ambassador Wilson and Arnold Franklin, the American consul general.

Mr. Wilson confirmed the press reports that he had protested to the Mexican department of foreign relations against the insults offered Americans. Mr. Franklin's dispatch said that the riotous students who paraded the streets cried "Death to Americans" and threatened the consulate. He also told how these students had pulled an American flag from a business house and had trampled it under foot. The department is awaiting further advices from Ambassador Wilson before taking any action in the matter.

NO FURTHER RIOTING.

Americans Endorse Course of Ambassador Wilson in Crisis.

City of Mexico, Nov. 10.—There has been no further outbreak of anti-American rioting in Mexico City. The authorities have taken measures for the maintainence of order and Felix Diaz, chief of police, announced this morning he would proceed against any further disorder with vigor. A total of 217 persons are today in jail, having been arrested during the disturbances of yesterday.

A committee of resident Americans called upon Ambassador Wilson this morning to congratulate him upon the stand he adopted during the trouble of yesterday when the American flag was insulted.

In an interview published today Ambassador Wilson says he was greatly shocked at the anti-American spirit of the mob, which did damage to Mexico's reputation as a lover of peace. The ambassador charges that the police stood by idly while the stars and stripes were being insulted, but he adds that he does not hold the Mexican government responsible for the outrage nor does he doubt that the representations which he made will receive prompt consideration.

Mr. Wilson had made a detailed report to Washington in the course of which he states that the Americans in this city are refraining from acts that might embarrass an already difficult situation.

UNCLE JOE NONCOMMITTAL.

Says Democrats Must Assume Full Responsibility.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 10.—When shown the Associated Press dispatch from Washington regarding taking the power to name standing committees away from the speaker and placing it in the hands of congress, Speaker Cannon said:

"From the returns, I judge the democrats will control the lower house of the sixty-second congress. With them will rest full power and responsibility. Peru, left that city today for his home matter."

GRUESOME SIGHT IN OPTION FIGHT IN WEST

Bodies of Men Dead from Drink Used as Window Display.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 10.—Corpses of two men who died from alcoholism were placed on exhibition in the windowns of the undertaking establishment of the deputy coroner at Auburn, 20 miles south of Seattle, in an effort to win votes for the "drys" in the local option election held here Tuesday, but without apparent effect, for the town voted wet.

Both factions were making a hard fight and the prohibitionists appeared to be in the lead until late in the afternoon. Then the tide began to turn. In a frantic effort the anti-saloon leaders appealed to Deputy Coroner Connell, an ardent prohibitionist, for aid. He hurried to his establishment where the bodies of the two men lay. Bolstering them in an upright position in their coffins he placed them in the front windows and above the head of each a sign bearing the words: "He died of drink" was tacked. As the voters hurried by, the anti-saloon men directed their attention to the exhibition.

"There was no desecration of the dead," said Connell last night.

"The men were without friends and their bodies might just as well have been put to some good use."

ACCUSED MAN KILLS TWO IN COURT HOUSE

Facing Assault Charge, He Kills Girl's Father and an Officer.

Boston, Nov. 10.—Walter G. Fall, a state house employe, who was at liberty on bail awaiting trial on a charge of assaulting a fourteen year old girl, today shot and killed Frank A. Rees, stepfather of the child, and Police Sergeant Frederick Schlehuber, the principal witness against him, as they were awaiting to lay the case before the district attorney. The shooting occurred in the Suffolk county court house. Reese was instantly killed and Schlehuber died a few moments later at the relief hospital.

The policeman on duty at the district attorney's office grappled with Fall, who struggled fiercely in an attempt to end his own life. He was soon overpowered, however, and taken to police headquarters. Fall is about 24 years of age. Rees was an auditor employed at a South Boston house.

DEPOT PLANS HOPED FOR WERE NOT ON HAND

Board of Works and City Officers Disappointed by Pennsylvania.

Members of the board of public works and other city officials hoped that at a meeting with Superintendent J. B. McKim and Fred A. Graham, of the Pennsylvania company, this afternoon plans for the new depot would be shown but there were no evidences that they intended to take up this question although the session was on until after 4 o'clock.

Members of the board wanted to talk over the question of getting the iron for the temporary bridge proposed by the Pennsylvania which the company promised some time ago. When these are in part of the piling can be removed and arrangements made for a walk, a driveway and a street car track at Calhoun street.

It was also intended when the meeting was called to insist on putting up the tracks at Fairfield avenue. The company's pile driver has been in the shops for six weeks and this has been the cause of some delay and annoyance and it was anticipated that arrangements could be made to rush the work.

The contract for the vacation of streets will not be ready for submission to the city council at its meeting tonight.

New York, Nov. 10.—Prof. Herschel Parker, of Columbia university, who recently returned from his exploration of Mount McKinley, today made public a series of photographs taken near the Alaskan mountains, which he claims is indisputable evidence that Dr. Frederick A. LIKELY TO TAKE OTHER SIDE NOW

On the other hand it is pointed out that harmony also would suffer from a maintenance of the seniority rule as that rule would give to the south the chairmanships of all the great committees and leave unrecognized the new democratic membership from northern and western states.

Under the seniority rule the committee on agriculture would go to Lamb, of Virginia; banking and currency to Pujo, of Louisiana; census to Hay, of Virginia; foreign affairs to Flood, of Virginia; immigration to Burnett, of Alabama; Indian affairs to Stephen, of Texas; interstate and foreign commerce to Adamson, of Georgia; judiciary to Clayton, of Alabama; merchant marine and fisheries to Clark, of Florida; naval affairs to Padgett, of Tennessee; patents to Legare, of South Carolina; pensions to Richardson, of Alabama; postoffice to Moon, of Tennessee; printing to Finley, of South Carolina; public buildings to Sheppard, of Texas; public lands to Robinson, of Arkansas; rivers and harbors to Sparkman, of Florida; territories to Lloyd, of Missouri, and ways and means, the greatest of all, to Underwood, of Alabama, unless Champ Clark, of Missouri, who is now the ranking minority leader, should fail to capture the speakership.

Fitzgerald May Lose.

Appropriations, under the seniority rule, would go to Fitzgerald, of New York, but it is said that such is his unpopularity with the prospective speaker that this place probably would be given to Burleson, of Texas. Military affairs, under the seniority arrangement, would go to Sulzer, of New York, and there is little doubt that he will capture this important chairmanship under whatever plan is adopted.

Whether the seniority rule is retained, or the speaker be permitted to name committees, or whether their selection is left to the membership of the house, all of those who are now the minority ranking members of the principal committees are expected to insist upon promotions to chairmanships. They will claim that their long service in the house entitled them to these places as a matter of right.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

EVANGELISTS MAKE TOUR ON BICYCLES

Preaching the Gospel Without Pay—Claim to Be Doing as Christ Did.

Montpelier, Ind., Nov. 10.—Evangelistic services by two itinerants who arrived in Mount Zion about a week ago and explain that they are doing as Christ did in their methods of holding preaching services each night in a hall and are said to be attracting considerable attention. They give their names as Mr. McGowan, direct from Ireland, and Mr. Fohl, of Zanesville, Ohio, they came into Mount Zion on bicycles, unannounced and unheralded, and have given no definite time as to the length of time they will remain. They set out that they do not take up a collection and do not take pay, other than the furnishing of board, which they secure by visiting in the neighborhood wherever some one kindly tenders board and lodging, and possibly a little money to pay absolutely necessary expenses. They claim to be entirely undenominational and declare that in every way they seek to follow the example of Christ in his life on earth. For the past three days the two men have been guests in the Samuel Roush home.

MASONS AT WARSAW.

Royal and Select Master Masons Organize Council.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 10.—A council of Royal and Select Masons will be organized by the masons in Warsaw. The necessary money has already been deposited and notice has been given by the grand secretary that the charter has been granted. In order to organize a council at least nine members are necessary. Twelve Warsaw masons are now members of the Columbia City council, the nearest one to this city, and will secure demits and will become members of the local council. The new council will work under a dispensation until the next meeting of the grand council in Indianapolis next year. Many more Warsaw masons are eligible to join and it is expected that as soon as the council is fully organized, between 25 and 50 of these will immediately apply for membership and within a short time there will probably be more than 100 members.

THE DAM AT ROME CITY.

Railroad Will Open Flood Gates on Saturday.

Rome City, Ind., Nov. 10.—The G. R. & I. railroad announces that on next Saturday it will open its dam here and begin to lower the water in the lake. This has been an annual occurence just the time before the lake begins to freeze and has been practiced for some time. The water, if it were high, would freeze and expanding ice would probably tear down the frail embankments to say nothing about the boat houses which would suffer.

Many of the cottagers have been protesting against the lowering of the lake, but were this precaution not taken the piling in half the boat houses would be snapped by the ice and the houses destroyed.

AUTO BADLY DAMAGED.

Explosion of Gasoline When Tank Was Being Filled.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 10.—When a funnel through which Dr. M. C. Clokey was pouring gasoline into the tank of his automobile slipped the inflamable liquid ran down over a hot lamp in which no flame was burning, and caused a violent exlosion.

Dr. Clokey leaped back in time to escape injury, although his coat was flaming with fire. He pulled the garment off in a flash and dumped it out of doors. His quick action in removing the coat saved him from serious burns. The fire department was called and the chemical wagon did good work, but the blaze was not extinguished until the entire top of the car was consumed by the flames.

FUNERAL HELD FRIDAY.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 10.—With his casket draped with the silken folds of the flag for which he fought, the body of Samuel Johnson, the late pioneer of Monroe, and veteran of the civil war, will lie in state at his home in that town until Friday morning at 10 o'clock, when the funeral service will be conducted at the M. E. church at that place. Mr. Johnson was 70 years of age and death was due to paralysis.

FOUND STOLEN CASH DRAWER.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 10.—Clarence, little son of F. E. Smith, the gunsmith, while playing on South Third street, found the stolen money drawer, which was taken from the Erie depot during the robbery of Monday evening. The drawer was broken in five or six pieces, and lay on the walk south of the Woodward home. The robbers had evidently grabbed the money drawer and money and ran, and after taking out the money, threw the drawer away.

MARRIAGE A SURPRISE.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 10.—The many friends of Harry Hunter, of this city, will be surprised to learn of his marriage to Miss Ruth B. Givens, of New York, at Dayton, O., last month. Mrs. Hunter is quite well-known in this city, having visited here several times and formerly resided in this city for a short time. Mrs. Hunter arrived in the city last Sunday evening and they are now at home to their many friends.

WAS NAME'S DAY OF DECATUR PRIEST

Catholic School Children Honor Father Wilken on Occasion of Feast Day.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 10.—Yesterday was the feast of St. Theodore and it being the name's day of Father Theodore Wilken, the priest of the church here, as has been the custom of former years, the children of the St. Joseph's schools honored him. A program consisting of short addresses and music was given and the beloved priest was mentioned in an endearing way in all the speeches.

The exercises were held in the school rooms, where all the scholars of the school assembled, which had been neatly decorated for the occasion. After the program had been given Father Wilken made a short address.

A purse, made up by the many children, was presented him. He gave a day of freedom from the school work for the day in honor of the occasion.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 10.—Following an illness extending over a period of several years, Mrs. Martin Botkin, aged seventy-seven years, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry P. Comstock, Jefferson and High streets. The funeral will be held Friday. Only a few days ago Charles Comstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Comstock, died at the Comstock home following a prolonged illness with consumption.

HAS BECOME INSANE.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 10.—Miss Mable Whiriedge, of Garrett, formerly employed at the office of the Noble Fuel & Light company in this city, has become mentally deranged and almost a raving maniac. Despondency is supposed to be the cause of her illness and yesterday she was taken to Logansport, where she will enter the hospital for treatment.

VOTE WAS NOT LARGE.

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 10.—A remarkable feature of the election in Noble county Tuesday was the extremely small vote that was cast.

In the election two years ago the total vote cast for representative was 6,704. In the election Tuesday the total vote for representative in Noble county was only 6,026, falling off 678 votes.

HE IS THE OLDEST STUDENT.

Unusual Spectacle of Pupil, 93, and Teacher Over 80 Years of Age.

(Los Angeles Examiner.)

Without doubt the oldest student in any university of the United States is Rev. David Jordan Higgins, a nonagenarian preacher and one time colonel in the United States army, who is attending the classes in philosophy conducted by Prof. J. H. Hoose, of the college of liberal arts, University of Southern California.

The Rev. Mr. Higgins has had a brilliant career and a life filled with active events, and now, when within seven years of the century mark, he has returned to the ideals of his youth and is pursuing the study of philosophy according to the latest teachings.

An octogenarian teaching a nonagenarian is the spectacle presented at the university, a sight which probably finds no parallel in the world. That the former still preserves his mental activity sufficiently to engage actively in the teaching of this difficult subject, requiring the deepest study and the most clear-headed reasoning, is nearly as marvelous as the fact that Rev. Higgins at 93 is still sufficiently active mentally and ambitious physically to grapple with a subject that is almost entirely new to him, such has been the change in the systems and textbooks since he first engaged in its mysteries nearly three-quarters of a century ago.

The Rev. Mr. Higgins was born in Maine in 1817. His early education was received in that state, but Wesleyan college was his alma mater.

Prof. Wilbur Fisk was then president of Wesleyan, and the Rev. Mr. Higgins recalls many incidents connected with that noted teacher and scholar.

The aged student attends the class of Prof. Hoose every Monday, and is busy nearly all the week with the pages of Rudolph Eucken, the solon of Jena university.

Both teacher and student are exceptionally bright and vigorous for their years, and the only defect that the Rev. Mr. Higgins suffers from is a slight deafness. He is too busy to speculate on his probable span of life, and is anxious to fill the remaining years with the bright light and consolation that the study of pure reason and philosophy only can give.

WANTS HIS OLD COMRADES TO READ THIS.

S. C. Murphy, Fort Wayne, Ind., a veteran of the civil war, desires his old comrades to know the contents of this letter. "For three or four years I have suffered from kidney trouble. My back ached severely and I had to get up frequently at night and was very dizzy upon arising in the morning. The black spots before my eyes made me imagine they were flies. I was recommended to try Foley Kidney Pills and the results were immediate. The pain left my back, I had no more dizziness, my kidney action was normal and I attribute my cure to the sole use of Foley Kidney Pills." Dreier Bros.

HOWELL'S FIRST LONG STORY.

When I was a boy I worked on my father's paper. Among other things, I set type. Those were days of great struggle for all of us. The paper was not profitable, and ours was a large family. My tastes and ambitions were all literary and I wanted to write a story. Instead of writing it and then setting it up in type, I composed it at the case and put it in type as I invented it. We printed a chapter of it weekly in the paper, and so it was published as fast as I got it up. I tried to get three of four chapters ready in advance, but I could not do it. All I could possibly accomplish was to have one installment ready every time the paper went to press. This went on for a long while, and that story became a burden to me. It stretched out longer and longer, but I could see no way to end it. Every week I resolved that that story should be finished in the next week's paper; every week it refused to be finished. Finally I became positively panic-stricken and ended it somehow or other. The experience discouraged me to some extent. I made up my mind that I could not invent.—From an interview with William Dean Howells.

WHAT DID SHAKESPEARE MEAN?

His Quaint Epitaph and a Guess at the Wish That Prompted It.

When Shakespeare died he left some lines to be placed over his tomb. Here they are:

"Good friend for Jesus' sake forbeare
To digg the dust enclosed heare.
Blessed be ye man yt spares these stones
And curst be ye yt moves my bones."

Now, why did Shakespeare make this peculiar request? No one seems to have seen any meaning in it. It looks to me as if Shakespeare wrote the verses in order to prevent his wife being buried with him. He wanted to be free of her in death as in life. At any rate, the fact is that she was not buried with him, but apart from him; he had seen to that. His grave was never opened, though his wife expressed a desire to be buried with him. The man who needs further proofs would not be persuaded, though one came from the dead to convince him.—Frank Harris in "The Man Shakespeare."

INDIANA.

For the first time in 18 years the Indiana democracy is completely triumphant. The legislature, the state ticket and, as it now seems the entire delegation in the lower house of congress are democratic. To crown the victory the great battle for the United States senatorship rests with democracy. Upon that issue the hottest of the fighting was centered.

Senator Beveridge made a gallant fight for his seat and under attendance of less inexorable conditions his appeal might have won. As it was, he began too late in his 12-year period of senatorship to urge the merit of non-partisan claims. Heretofore Senator Beveridge has been a tolerably likely example of the hot and hold-fast republican partisan, and it is not altogether strange that his new role should have failed to be wholly convincing. Yet we think it unfair to pit Senator Beveridge's sincerity under question. He did stout and valiant battle in the senate during the extra and first regular session of this congress for things of the common good. He has been made to suffer the sins of his party.

The Indiana democracy's senatorial nominee has not the brilliant aspects of Senator Beveridge, but John W. Kern is not his inferior in honesty or courage. He has fine, solid abilities and will uphold the traditions of the state for sending its highest grade of men to the United States senate.

So complete is the democratic victory in Indiana that the party in this state must begin to prepare itself for the honor of furnishing the national democracy with its next standard bearer. The Hoosier state can not well be overlooked.

The proposal that a registration law be enacted by the next Indiana legislature embraces one of the most important reforms to which the general assembly can adhere. More than twenty years ago Indiana was the leader in that ballot reform which led to the almost universal adoption by the states of the Australian ballot system. The Indiana democracy forced that great reform and it should now take to itself the credit of purifying and protecting the franchise in this state. A system of legistration that will shut out the vicious foreign element that has contaminated elections in this state in an increasing number for several years is what is needed and ought not to be hard to devise nor difficult to enforce. Of course, it is not impossible to commit fraud under registration, but fraud is minimized by such a law.

Disposition at once wise and just has been made of Moses Richer. He has received the severest penalty of the law for his crime. While it is true a jury might have hanged him, it is not probable. Without loss of time, the distraction and expense of a long trial and any uncertainty of the outcome, Richer has received such measure of the law's justice as he merits. His crime is one of the most atrocious in the criminal annals of any land and marks the Amish farmer as such a monster of cruelty as happily the world has had few.

Some of those standpat fellows who took cowardly refuge in repudiation of their chieftain and Uncle Joe and then failed to scramble back will feel cheap and silly when they gather for the short session. And there's that fellow Diekema up in Michigan, who chuted through the dilemma by announcing himself as a candidate for speaker, although in his first term. He couldn't come back either. Nor could the reactionary, pro-Ballinger Druby, who has been standpat enough, but willing to have Cannon smoked. Uncle Joe will have to put in a few days next month sorting out his friends.

With a real spirit and a little more widespread sense of decency Pennsylvania could have been rescued from republican ring rule. The regulars elected Tener governor by about 20,000 and that amounts to only a hair's breadth in Pennsylvania, where the machine occasionally takes a notion to count itself in by three or four hundred thousand, just as a matter of moral impressiveness. Some time enough people in that state will get tired of wallowing and the breakaway will come.

Mayor Gaynor has put a fancy crimp in the big express strike in New York by an order interdicting the use of unlicensed drivers as strike-breakers. This is entirely proper from a legal standpoint, and it will doubtless have salutary effect in convincing the companies that grounds for peace is not impossible to be found if hunted for with fair diligence and a real desire to treat the strikers justly.

The colonel has soused himself deep in the gathered gloom of Sagamore Hill, and Magnitudinous William has taken ship for a look at the Gatun dam's sore toe. No chance for awhile to find out what it really means, unless your Uncle Joseph consents to do a little pinch-hitting now and interpret events.

The Wabash railroad should not be denied anything it deserves at the hands of Fort Wayne for the gift back to this town of that old depot. We believe by proper co-operation here that road can soon be convinced a new one will pay.

Even James Eli Watson's old district has ceased to be standpat. That's enough to go for two and so offset the break in the unanimity caused by slight failure of Ed Crumpacker's district to line up.

It may not be amiss to counsel Hon. John Worth Kern to see that he gets 'em this time.

In odd contrast to the modern rush and "honk" of the automobiles, and the clang of the trolley cars, are the saloons or small farmers who ride nonchalantly through the twentieth century hubbub on the back, the extreme back, of small patient-eyed mules. Though the country has progressed, and the farmers are progressing toward prosperity, they have consistently refused to move farther forward on the mule's back in Portugal that the last fifth of his anatomy. Perhaps the custom arose from the time when the mule carried a large load just before the rider, and the habit has not been broken.—The Christian Herald.

This is another link in the long chain of evidence to prove the reliability of this standard medicine for women.

WOMAN RUNS BIG FERRY LINE.

Running a steam launch on the Kill von Kull between New Brighton, S. I., and Bayonne, N. J., is a pretty woman who is less than thirty years old. She is Mrs. Margaret Gonigal, of New Brighton. Years ago this ferry was established by her father, Patrick J. Donovan, who was captain of a tugboat, but at that time a rowboat was used. When her father became crippled with rheumatism about ten years ago Margaret left the convent where she was studying and took up the task of earning the family livelihood. For three years she and her sister, Marie, rowed the ferryboat back and forth. At last the traffic became so great that a steam launch was purchased and Margaret took out a pilot's and engineer's license. At present she owns four launches and is doing a thriving business.—New York Evening World.

In ten years the number of passenger cars in the United States has increased from 83,595 to 41,622. The number of freight cars has risen from 1,245,526 to 2,130,110, an increase of over 70 per cent., but their capacity has increased over 120 per cent., from 32,000,000 tons to 71,000,000 tons.

THE SEASON OF THE FALL.

Fall!—and everywhere the sights and sounds of falling. In the woods, through the cool, silvery air, the leaves, so indispensable once, so useless now. Bright day after bright day, dripping night after dripping night, the never-ending flittering or gusty fall of leaves. The fall of walnuts, dropping from bare boughs with muffled boom into the deep grass. The fall of the hickory nut, rattling noisily down through the scaly limbs and scattering its hulls among the stones of the brook below. The fall of the buckeyes, rolling like balls of mahogany into the little dust paths made by the sheep, in the hot months, when they had sought those roofs of leaves. The fall of the acorns, leaping out of their matted green cups as they strike the rooty earth. The fall of redhaw, persimmon and pawpaw, and the odorous wild plum in its valley thickets. The fall of all seeds whatsoever of the forest, now made ripe in their high places and sent back to the ground, there to be folded in against the time when they shall rise again as the living generations; the homing, downward flight of the seeds in the many-colored woods all over the quiet land.—James Lane Allen.

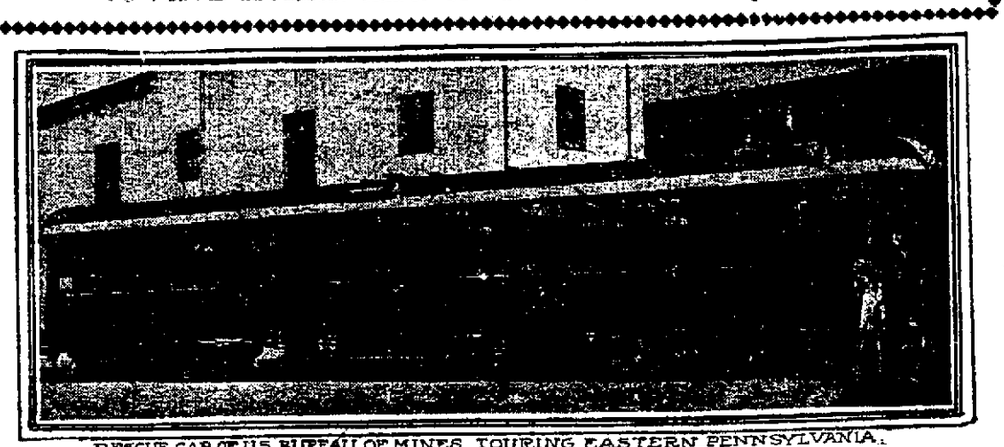
TO SAVE HUMAN LIFE IN THE GREAT COAL MINES.



RESCUE CAR OF U.S. BUREAU OF MINES TOURING EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 8.—The first of the rescue cars equipped with oxygen helmets for use in mine disasters and the latest life saving apparatus, which have been contracted for by the United States bureau of mines, arrived in Pittsburg at the eastern testing station last week and started on its first trip early this week.

Until further orders are received the car will remain in the anthracite coal section of Pennsylvania, in the country between Shamokin and Scranton, and every mine will have an opportunity to see how the different apparatus, including the oxygen helmet, is used, and practically the first aid to the injured tactics.

With the car are twelve experienced miners, who have been trained in this new work at the Pittsburg mine rescue and testing station during the last year. Three other stations have been completed through the western fields for the training work, and five other cars for those fields are being built now.

The mine rescue stations, where men are trained to become practical life savers, will become obsolete, government officials say, if the new plan is successful, as they calculate 1,000 men can be trained by the use of the rescue car every year, while at a rescue station only twelve men can be trained in a year.

WOMAN, ELECTED, MUST FIGHT

Courts Will Probably Decide if She Is Entitled to Office.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 10.—A pretty fight in the courts is probable as the result of the election of a woman as register of deeds of this county. Miss Adeline Pratt, deputy register for 13 years, as an independent candidate, over Emery Gallineau, republican. Gallineau says she cannot qualify for the office, though the attorney general ruled that she could legally be a candidate, adding that the courts had not yet ruled on the question of whether a woman could qualify for the office.

Miss Clara Lee Bowman, of Bristol, Conn., is chairman of the educational committee of the Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution, which is trying to make good citizens of immigrants. The committee circulates among immigrants a little paper covered book which treats of the duties of citizens.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

FIGURES ARE IN FOR THE COUNTY

Final Count Finished and Board Signs Up the Sheets.

YAPLE RAN AHEAD BY A FEW VOTES

State Ticket Held Its Own With Ellingham in the Lead.

With the official vote of Allen county fully computed by the election commissioners and the clerks and other officials beginning to rest up after a task that was rendere more tedious by the tardiness of the precinct officers in reporting, the results show that the estimates given in The Sentinel Wednesday were reliable and that the democratic pluralities are as big as the candidates anticipated.

A battery of two adding machines was trained on the figures late Wednesday afternoon and as rapidly as the tired clerks could manipulate them the columns were cast up and verified. The big task was not completed until 11 o'clock at night and this morning the sheets were duly signed by the members of the board of election commissioners and the results prepared for transmission to the secretary of state.

Yaple Leads the County.

To Carl Yaple, candidate for judge of the superior court, belongs the honor of leading the county ticket as he had a plurality of 3,313, which is slighily in excess of that carried by County Assessor William Eggemann who was second in the race with 3,256. Dr. Kruse also made a good race in and tabbed a plurality of 3,237.

An analysis of the vote indicates that in the city precincts where the voters were more familiar with the voting machines, which thye had used in two primaries in addition to the regular elections, the tickets were scratched extensively. In the country precincts more tickets were voted straight.

Estimates Went Wrong.

While the votes were being tabulated by the clerical force of the commission it was estimated by the clerks that the socialists had cast 1,500 votes in the county but these figures were badly shattered when the count was all in as there were only 711 votes polled by Rhine, the candidate for county councilman-at-large, who ran ahead of any of the other party candidates. Jones, candidate for secretary of state, received 694 and none of the candidates got half as many as the clerks thought had been cast for the ticket.

On the prohibition ticket W. L. Robinson, who made the race for representative, got 579 votes and was the leader of his party in the county and ran ahead of the candidate for secretary of state by a small majority.

Ellingham Led Cline.

Ellingham, democratic candidate for secretary of state, had a slightly better vote in the county than Hon. Cyrus Cline for congress and the former made a better race than any of the candidates on the legislative ticket and slightly better than Greenwell for state senator.

The totals and pluralities in the county are as follows:

IN THE CHURCHES

SOUTH SIDE CHURCHES

Begin Active Work for the Chapman Meetings.

Fifty-six cottage prayer meetings will be held at different homes by the churches south of the Pennsylvania and Wabash railroads on Tuesday and Thursday evening of next week in preparation for the Chapman-Alexander evangelistic campaign. This was determined on Wednesday evening at a union prayer meeting held at the Simpson M. E. church, in which the members of the four south side churches joined, Bethel Evangelical, the Third Presbyterian, the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ and the Simpson M. E. There were two hundred in attendance at the meeting, Rev. C. D. Rarey presiding.

An important feature of the meeting was the organization of a chorus choir of fifty voices by Professor William Miles. This chorus will sing at the south side services during the evangelistic campaign, which will be held at the Third Presbyterian church under the direction of one of Dr. Chapman's evangelists. Next Wednesday evening the four south side churches will have another union prayer meeting. It will be held at the Third Presbyterian church with Rev. W. A. Griest in charge.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES.

Rev. G. F. Byror Talks About the Indianapolis Meeting.

Rev. G. F. Byrer, the pastor of the United Brethren church, has returned from Indianapolis, where, as a delegate, he had been in attendance on the Interdenominational Council of the Churches of Indiana, at which Dr. John P. Hall, of Lafayette, was chosen as chairman of the council for the coming year and Dr. W. E. McKenzie, of Crawfordsville, secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Mr. Byrer reports that ten denominations were represented in the council, the Presbyterian, Baptists, Disciples, United Brethren, Methodists, Congregational, Reformed, Free Will Baptists, Moravians and the Friends, and the best of fellowship characterized all the discussions and proceedings, a great omen for future unity of work.

The plan of operations for the year were outlined as follows: Cultivation of public sentiment, local church federations, church comity, co-operation of church leaders and superintendents, critical study of special districts and organizations throughout the state by which the work of the council can be effected, including the taking of a religious census of the state.

Taylor-Fairbank.

A wedding of much social prominence and unusual beauty was that of Miss Agnes Randall Fairbank, only daughter of Mrs. Clark Fairbank and Mr. James Loockerman Taylor, Jr., son of Colonel and Mrs. James L. Taylor, of New York city, which took place Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride. The hour of the ceremony was 8:30 o'clock and the officiating clergyman was Rev. E. W. Averill, rector of Trinity Episcopal church. There were present about 200 guests and they filled the rooms of the old Randall homestead with a happy company of relatives and friends, not only of the bride's family, but of the bride and bridegroom's personal friends. In every appointment the wedding was a beautiful one. The bride never looked handsomer than in her wedding gown, which was elegant and becoming. The material was a crepe du satin and it was fashioned in colonial style with short waist in the back, long train and peasant front to the bodice. The neck and sleeves were cut to show rose point lace veiled in chiffon and there was an elegant trimming of embroidery and a pearl stole. The bride wore a veil, which was gathered to a piece of rose point lace and held to the hair with a small cluster of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of pink orchids which were tied with long ends and loops of orchid gauze ribbon. The bride was preceded by her matron of honor, Mrs. Kerr Murray Cressler, and her bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Carnahan, as she came down stairs alone and entered the living room on the west side of the house, which was chosen for the marriage service. There the bridegroom and his best man, Dr. Jason Mixter, of Boston, and the groomsmen, Messrs. Harry Shaw, of Louisville, and Kerr Murray Cressler, met the bride and her attendants. Messrs Shaw and Cressler had previously drawn white ribbons as a pathway for the bridal party. The bay window of the room had been entirely screened with southern smilax and on either side of the bride and groom were tall stands on which stood vases filled with white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Cressler wore a rich and elegant grown of nale pink brocaded satin, empire style, with train and decolette neck and short sleeves. There were lace undersleeves and a trimming of embroidered net, gold cord and rose velvet. Miss Carnahan wore a cream color brocaded silk crepe empire gown with trimmings of bands of white jet. The round neck and short sleeves were outlined with duchess lace. Mrs. Cressler held long stemmed white chrysanthemums and Miss Carnahan held pale pink chrysanthemums. The wedding music was furnished by a trio of violin, harp and clarinet players from Marion and they played classical music for a half hour preceding the ceremony, the bridal music from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered, "Le Cygne" during the service and Mendelssohn's wedding march at its close. During the supper the musicians played popular airs. The bridal party was seated in the dining room for the collation. The bride's table was beautiful with a placque of bride roses, tall candles in crystal candlesticks and a draping of bridal veiling which began at the chandelier and ended in fluffy bows on two of the candleholders. The house had been elaborately decorated by Mrs. Auger for the occasion. There was no arch, doorway or mantel left uncovered with southern smilax. The wide stairway was hidden with it and lights gleamed through the foliage on the chandeliers. With the exception of the bride's table no flower was used but the chrysanthemum and no color but white appeared, except in one room, which was in yellow. Mrs. Fairbank was assisted during the evening by her mother and sister, Mrs. Mary J. Randall, of this city, and Mrs. John Downs, of Danbury, Conn., and by Mrs. A. L. Randall, Mrs. Julia Fay Randall, Mrs. Frank Randall, Mrs. Emmett McDonald, Mrs. John P. Evans, Mrs. William S. Morris, Mrs. B. F. Hudson, Mrs Edward White, all of this city, and Mrs. Clare Cameron, of Indianapolis; Mrs. Minnie Graves Brown of Toledo, and Mrs. John Dodson, of Chicago. In receiving congratulations the bride and groom, with Mrs. Fairbank and the bridegroom's parents, Colonel and Mrs. Taylor, stood in the room of the ceremony. The bride and groom left late in the evening for an eastern trip and will spend the most of the time in Pittsburg, New York and Boston. For traveling the bride wore a dark blue broadcloth suit with waist of blue chiffon cloth and hat with a blue velvet turban hat. On their return here Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will be at home for a few weeks with Mrs. Fairbank. The bridegroom is connected with the maintenance of way department of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad in this city. He was graduated from the civil engineering department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, comes from a family of prominence and is a young man of fine character. Among the guests from away who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bradley, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. John Dodson, of Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. John Downs, of Danbury, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hayden, of Indianapolis; Miss Geraldine Sembower, of Garrett; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haas, of Wabash; George W. Stevens, of Baltimore; Mr. Turner, of Virginia; Mrs. Arthur Partison, of Ridgewood, N. J.; Miss Jessie Slayback, of Hampton, Ohio, and Fay P. Randall, of Chicago.

The social democrats are making much of the almost prohibitive price of meat in Germany. A picture postcard that had a wide circulation before it was withdrawn showed a fat butcher, meat ax in hand, standing at his block. There was nothing in the shop except the man and his implements of trade to show that it was a butcher shop. A cadaverous woman asks the price of meat, and the butcher answers: "You came to the wrong place; we do not keep it now. You must go to the apothecary's for it."

With a view to horses' comfort a Philadelphian has invented a check rein operating from the sides of the head instead of from the top.

NEW SKIRTS ARE NOT TIGHT

Redfern and a few other independent dressmakers are endeavoring to introduce a more flaring skirt than then the narrow model banded in about the ankles.

As an example of this freedom the graceful frock for restaurant wear shown above is fuller in the skirt, though narrow enough to conform to the lines of the present mode. It gives the effect of a slightly fuller garment, because of the three flounces of satin.

The material of the frock is dark blue chiffon, set in tucks and dropped over a self colored lining.

The satin flounces, girdle and cuffs are in the same dark blue color. Blue embroidery is used on sleeve and upper bodice.

Invitations Given Over Telephone Lack Formality

They Have the Advantage for Hostesses of an Immediate Acceptance or Refusal.

Women who entertain much agree that to have an immediate answer to an invitation, as is possible by use of the telephone, saves a hostess much nervous strain. But at the same time they admit that, however formal the occasion may be, if the guests are invited by word of mouth there is a certain casualness which a written request never has. It is as though Dame Etiquette said: "You may, but I wouldn't."

One strong argument against telephone invitation is the danger of misunderstanding the date. This has happened more than once on the occasion of formal dinners, and one or more guests have arrived the wrong evening. That is why an invitation so given should be followed by a written answer, in which day, date and hour are repeated. Such a communication is regarded as imperative, even though a positive answer has been given over the telephone.

Nor should there be any delay in sending such a note. The person invited should go directly from the instrument to her desk and write the prospective hostess, as though she were answering a note.

If any error has been made in time, her note, containing the hour and day as she understands it, will receive an immediate response from the other woman, making right the mistake.

In this connection it may be said that when a married woman and her husband are invited together to dinner, bridge or any other occasion, it is not expected that one will accept without the other. If the husband is to be away, the wife must decline for herself. It is proper, in refusing under such circumstances, for the wife to state the reason, and then, if she is wished without her husband, the invitation will be renewed to her alone, when she may accept if she wishes. There is no reason for hurt feelings if she is not invited alone.

It is impossible to reply to an invitation too soon; indeed, the sooner the better, and women who are punctilious in this respect gain added popularity with hostesses. There is nothing more trying to one who entertains than to be kept waiting for a reply, not knowing whether those bidden are coming. Refusals delayed until the last moment are inexcusably bad form and inconsiderate, and nothing will make a woman more disliked than such a habit.

Xmas Gifts That Girl With Limited Income May Make

Now Is the Time to Begin Preparaiton of Welcome Little Remembrances.

A girl whose income is limited and who likes to give her friends presents at Christmas time, has begun now to make little remembrances which require time to complete.

Several different kinds of scents and perfumes she is putting together, arranging them in tightly screwed down glass jars. These when completed will mingle and combine and be well "seasoned," as she calls it.

A pot pourri mixture which she intends putting into little Japanese jars is made from eight ounces each of rose leaves and lavender flowers, four ounces of ground oris root, one ounce each of ground cloves, cinnamon and allspice and eight ounces of table salt. All the ingredients are well mixed in a china basin with a silver fork and then packed down in a glass, for the bouquet will be better in six weeks than when first made.

Cologne water, the formula for which she does not give, but which is considered a gift by her friends, is not expensive nor difficult to compound. It requires one-half a dram of oil of neroli, two drams of oil of lemon, one-quarter of a dram of oil of lavender, seven ounces of deodorized alcohol and enough rose water to make a half pint of the mixture. This must be shaken and put into a glass bottle with a glass stopper, to be placed where it will keep warm, but not hot. This mixture should stand for two months before being used. The girl who makes this cologne puts it into small fancy glass bottles for gifts.

Also popular among her girl friends is a perfumed glove cleaning mixture. As she uses it, delicate kid may be cleaned and at the same time scented. This cleansing preparation she makes from one-half an ounce of gum tragacinth, one ounce of white castile soap, shaved, one pint of rose water and ten drops of tincture of musk.

The rose water is put into a wide mouthed glass jar and set into a hot water bath, then the soap is combined with the rose water. When the former melts the gum is put in to swell, as it will when soaked. Then the jar is removed from the bath, the mixture stirred and the musk added. Stirring continues until the preparation cools and thickens.

Directions for using she prints on a tiny card and this writing suggests wiping the kid with a piece of flannel moistened in the cleanser and then rubbing until the kid is dry.

Baked Veal Cutlets.

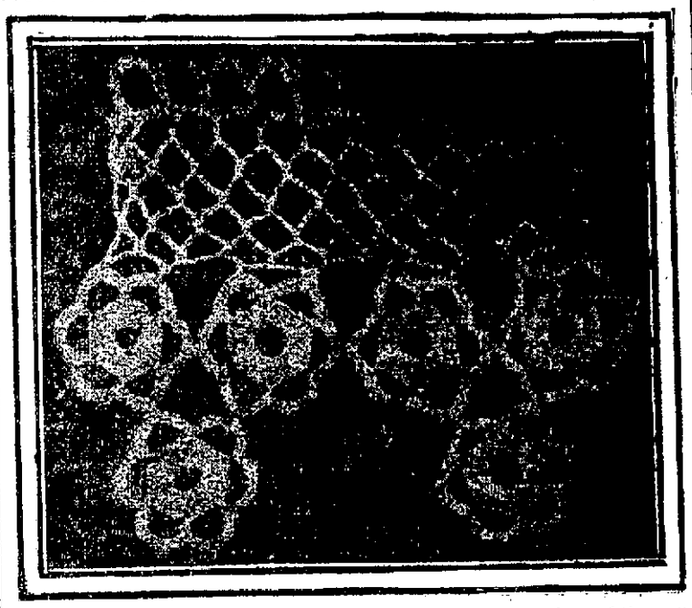
Pare six veal cutlets by chopping off the back bone, cutting short the rib bone, removing the excess of fat, and fastening the flap around with a small wooden skewer. Butter a pan. Season the cutlets on both sides with pepper, salt and grated nutmeg, lay them in the pan so that they do not overlap each other. Bake them in a hot oven and when they are colored on one side turn them over and brown the other side. Pour in at the side of the pan one cupful of hot stock and a wineglassful of sherry wine. Cook for twenty minutes longer. Mix together one tablespoonful of finely chopped shallot and parsley, add them to the sauce and cook for five minutes. Arrange the cutlets on a hot dish. Add one teaspoonful of lemon juice to the sauce, mix without boiling and pour over the cutlets.

Apple Custard Pie.

One quart of strained tart apple sauce, one-half cupful of butter, four eggs, one cupful of sugar, and a dash of cayenne. Line a deep pie plate with good crust. Beat the eggs, mix with the sauce, melt and stir in the butter, then add the cayenne and sugar. Fill the pie plate and bake in a moderate oven.

DAINTY LACE EDGE FOR TRAY OR SIDEBOARD CLOTH EASILY MADE.

If Directions in Story Are Closely Followed Even an Amateur in Lace Work Should Have No Difficulty in Developing This Design.



A wide edging in points worked in very fine cotton makes a dainty lace for a tray cloth, sideboard cloth, mats, cushion covers, etc.

This lace is worked in rings of three, which form a triangular design, and Van Dyked points, above which is a simple open work pattern finished with a strong edge to be sewn on the article of which the lace is a border.

It should be worked in crochet cotton No. 36, and a crochet hook No. 4.

The Rings—Form 12 chain into a ring, 3 chain, 24 treble in it, finishing with a slip-stitch in the first treble. Second row—8 chain, miss 3 stitches, 1 double, making 6 loops. Third row—12 double in each loop. Fasten off securely.

One ring is made, make another and join it to the first one, when working the last row. The join should be in the middle of a loop. The third ring must be joined to both of the previous rings—once to the first ring and once to the second ring. See the illustration.

Continue this design until a length of lace is made, then work the plain pattern along the upper row of rings. Begin with one double in the middle of a loop to the right ring, eighth chain, one double in the next loop of the same ring; nine chain, one double in the loop of the next ring; repeat this design to the end of the row; turn, says Woman's Life.

Second row—Eight chain, one double in a loop over a ring; eight chain, one double twice over in a loop between two rings; repeat.

Third row—Eight chain, one double in each loop.

Fourth row—Same as row three.

Fifth row—Same as row three.

Sixth row—Eight chain for the turn, one treble; then four chain, one treble in each loop to end of row; turn.

Seventh row—Five double under four chain, one double in the next, twelve chain, join in back to the first double, sixteen double in this loop; * four double to fill the four chain, one double in the next, ten chain, join to fourth stitch of the top loop from the end, fourteen double in this loop; repeat from *.

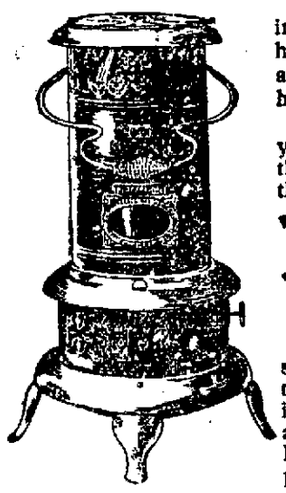
Fresh Air in Winter



In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.

If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

SOME TOBACCO FIGURES.

It is estimated that over 500 tons of tobacco leaves go up in smoke each day of the year, representing a value of over $800,000. Our annual tobacco bill is $940,000,000.

Of nearly 12,000 volunteers for the British army, it is said that only 1,200 were able to pass the required tests, and the chief cause of physical disability was officially and medically declared to be smoking.

Of sixty-seven candidates for the medical department of the United States army during the Spanish-American war, forty-three were rejected because of tobacco heart, officially and medically so declared.

Tobacco causes a slowing of the heart and an increase of blood pressure equaled by the infection of only one other drug.

The great increase today of death among men from apoplexy finds partial explanation in tobacco.

Tobacco kills: it is destructive to all forms of vegetable and animal life.

The common notion that smoking is advisable because it is destructive to disease germs is exploded by the overlooked fact that any poison that is destructive to germs is equally destructive to lung tissue.

CATTLE FEEDERS TO HOLD MEETING NOV. 19

Indiana Stockmen to Discuss Their Problems at Lafayette.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 10.—Never since its organization has the Indiana Cattle Feeders' association had such flattering prospects for an interesting and profitable meeting as is now before it in its fourth annual fall meeting that has been called by its president, Frank DuPuy, to meet in Lafayette, on November 19, 1910. When a few interested feeders gathered in Lafayette in the fall of 1907 to see the cattle to be fed experimentally by Purdue experiment station placed on feed, little did they think that they were starting a movement that would twice annually gather together hundreds of the best cattle feeders of the state to exchange experiences and gain new ideas in regard to their feeding operations. From a small beginning, the association meetings have grown until in the busiest season of the year 200 feeders, representing practically every county in the state and also five neighboring states, gathered in June, 1910, to see the fattened cattle that had been placed on feed when the annual fall meeting was held the previous November, and to learn of the profits obtained from each lot. The value of seeing lots of cattle when placed on feed and the same cattle when finished under conditions equal in every particular except in the ration upon which they were fattened, one returning a profit of $18.00, and another fattened on a more common ration $10.00 per steer, can hardly be appreciated. The station has secured eighty head of choice feeders to be fed upon seven different rations. These steers will be placed on feed November 19 and finished at the time of the annual spring meeting of the Indiana Cattle Feeders' association.

Not only will there be the opportunity to study feeding from observation, but two of the highest authorities along cattle feeding lines have been secured to address the members of the association. President H. J. Waters, of the Kansas Agricultural college, will discuss "Our Future Meat Supply." President Waters has carried on the largest and most extensive investigations along the line of cattle feeding that have ever been conducted upon that subject. His travels in Europe and his intimate knowledge of conditions in all the principal meat producing districts of this country, make him amply qualified to discuss this subject in a thorough and practical manner.

Mr. John Imboden, of Decatur, Ill., will give his knowledge of cattle feeding that has enabled him to be not only a most successful feeder in a financial way, but also a fitter of show animals as indicated by his many winnings in the car lots at the International Live Stock Show. Mr. Imboden is indeed well qualified to discuss the subject, "Buying and Feeding Cattle for Profit."

The results of former feeding trials at Purdue and other experiment stations will be thoroughly discussed in their relation to the facts that are to be sought in the cattle feeding trials to be made this winter. The investigations in feeding corn ensilage to cattle are being conducted in many experiment stations, and the question as to its value is being pretty satisfactorily answered. These results will be used as the basis for the feeding trials at Purdue this winter.

Governor Thomas R. Marshall, while himself not a cattle feeder, appreciates the value of such organizations and meetings as these and will attend. Owing to the pressure of business he has been unable to attend former meetings, but as governor of the state he recognizes the value of the work that is being done by the Cattle Feeders' association in cattle feeding and is this year planning to meet with the feeders who attend the convention.

The meetings will be held in the new live stock pavilion at Purdue university and the following program followed:

9:30 a. m.—Inspection of Animal Husbandry Exhibit.

10:00 a. m.—Meeting called to order by President Frank DePuy.

"Buying and Feeding Cattle for Profit"—Mr. John G. Imboden, Decatur, Ill.

Address—Governor Thomas R. Marshall.

"Inspection of Fat Steers"—Professor J. H. Skinner.

Election of Officers.

1:30 p. m.—"Our Future Meat Supply"—President H. J. Waters, Manhattan, Kan.

"Experimental Work in Cattle Feeding"—F. G. King.

"Inspection and Valuation of Feeder Cattle"—Mr. J. T. Alexander, Chicago; Mr. Allen Beeler, Indianapolis.

The officers of the association feel that such a strong program should call for a large attendance and hope to see in Lafayette on November 19, several hundred cattle feeders, all of whom are cordially invited to meet with and take part in the affairs of the Indiana Cattle Feeders' association.

NOTIONS OF THE PICTURESQUE.

For Years Tourists Have Stood in Way of Sanitation in Foreign Lands.

(New York Evening Sun.)

All the world is growing alike, and a great many excellent people are used to lamenting the fact with great fervor. "There are," they complain, "no longer any dog scavengers in the streets of Constantinople; the lottery is banished from New Orleans; the Chinese are giving up opium, and our own Bowery has lost all its old local color. They have electric lights in South Africa and higher education for women in Japan." When you hear people going on like this you will perhaps set them down for cosmopolitan roustabouts. Not at all; they are nothing of the sort. They are simple and virtuous souls who may never have been a mile from home and who certainly have no craving for dark delights. But they are clean filled up with the love of the picturesque.

Have you ever lived at all permanently in the region of the holiday seekers' activities? If so, you are familiar with the rage of the native against him and his quest for the picturesque. Down in Bermuda the Bermudan struggles in vain for the modern conveniences of electric light, street trams and modern sewerage. It is feared that the tourist will desert when the old-time inconveniences cease to make picturesque the streets of Hamilton. An electrified spotless town would have no charms for the seeker after this manner of picturesqueness. What is new in Philistine; what is convenient is nerve-wearing, and what is hygienic is vulgar. A little mediaeval dirt and decay is what they are looking for to help out their notions of an aesthetic vacation. But it comes a little hard on the year-round inhabitants who are expected to preserve it for their delectation.

CURES PIMPLES QUICKLY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past Meyer Bros. Co. have done the biggest business they ever had in any one article in selling Hokara, the skin food that has won so many friends in Fort Wayne.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not heal, and its action is so instantaneous that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, Meyer Bros. Co. will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c; larger size, 50c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

MGR. SBARETTI.

Rome, Nov. 8.—Mgr. Sbaretti, hitherto apostolic delegate to Canada and well known in Washington, where he spent many years as auditor of the apostolic delegation, has been appointed to the important office of secretary of the congregation of religious, which in a few years will certainly lead to the cardinalate.

Mgr. Sbaretti thus succeeds to the position held by the Benedictine, Abbot Jannssen, who was obliged to resign last spring on account of the visit which he paid to Mr. Theodore Roosevelt and the written message in which he thanked the erstwhile president, in the name of the congregation of religious, for the good will always shown by Mr. Roosevelt toward religious orders, and especially toward the Benedictines. This happened after the vatican had refused to admit the one-time president to an audience with the pope on his own terms.

NATURAL ENOUGH FOR HIM.

In the furniture department of a big store a chiffonier with a patent drawer that could be opened without pulling it out was on exhibition. All day long the clerk packed and unpacked the drawers of that chiffonier, showing how easy it was to stow away gloves, veils, blouses and men's shirts and collars. During one of the demonstrations the manager of the department stopped to watch him.

"Why don't you distribute things a little more evenly?" he asked. "Why do you devote the four top drawers to women's apparel and chuck everything belonging to men in the bottom drawer?"

"I guess," said the clerk, "I did it from force of habit. You see I have been married for fifteen years, and I forgot there was any place except the bottom drawer for a man to put his clothes."—New York Sun.

A well dressed woman standing just inside of a pay-as-you-enter car taking fares from passengers was recently one of New York's queer scenes. On entering the car the woman dropped a 25-cent piece into the fare box by mistake. The conductor saw the error, but said he could do nothing in the matter. "Very well," said the woman. "I will get my 20 cents from the next four passengers." She explained the situation to the first man who boarded the car, took his nickel, saw that the fare was rung up and stood her ground till the change to which she was entitled was collected.—New York Tribune.

WENT TO SLEEP IN BUGGY; KILLED BY A CAR

Ira Bunnell, High School Student, Meets Accidental Death.

Ira Bunnell, 15 years old, a student in the Fort Wayne High school, was instantly killed about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, when a northbound car on the Bluffton division of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley lines, at stop 14, seven miles south of the city, struck his rig, while he was driving home, killing the horse, demolishing the buggy and carrying the body of young Bunnell fifty feet from the crossing.

A neighbor of the dead boy's family told Coroner Kesler that he had passed the boy a short distance from the interurban track and had spoken to him, but had received no reply, and for this reason he believes the boy was asleep when he passed him, and that he did not awaken when he reached the tracks. This theory is borne out by the fact that other neighbors say that the boy was in the habit of sleeping in the buggy while driving home from school. Ira lived with his mother and his step-father a short distance west of the scene of the fatality.

Travelers visiting Samoa are puzzled at first by the fact that many boys bear feminine names, while girls as frequently have masculine names. The visitor learns after awhile, however, says the New York Mail, that this confusing use of names, instead of being due to ignorance, is in reality the result of a native custom, which is highly poetic. Thus if a girl is born soon after the death of a brother the latter's name is given to her, in the belief that his spirit and all his good qualities pass to her.

LOCAL HUNTERS OUT EARLY IN SPITE OF RAIN

Season Opened Today and Nimrods Got After Game from Jump.

In spite of the rain many local hunters who had arranged to start after game with the beginning of the season which opened today were out early this morning to take advantage of the first opportunity of the year to bag game.

The open season on rabbits is from November 10 to October 1. Reports from over the state say that there are large numbers of quails and rabbits as the weather has been conductive to their growth. The hunting season on wild geese, ducks and other wild fowl is from September 1 until April 1. As these are to be found principally in the marsh and lake regions of northern Indiana comparatively few people have opportunity to hunt them. Squirrels may be shot from July 1 to October 1.

No man in Indiana is permitted to snare or otherwise trap quails. They may be killed only with a gun. In order to prevent extermination, only fifteen quails may lawfully be killed by one hunter in a day. Any person having hunted three days or more in succession may have a total not to exceed forty-five quails killed by himself. However, many people pay no attention to this clause.

The law relating to wild ducks, geese, brant and other waterfowl is the same as the quail law in regard to the number permitted to be killed. The penalty in each case for killing or having in possession birds in excess of the number permitted is $10 for each bird.

The hunting fee for a resident of Indiana to hunt in this state is $1. The license may be procured in counties having less than 150,000 population of the clerk of the circuit court. In all counties of over 150,000 the license may be procured direct from the state fish and game commissioner, or from some person in the county appointed by him. The license is good for one year from date. For persons outside the state the Indiana fee is $15.50.

Even though armed with a license, there is a severe penalty for any one hunting on land without permission from the owner. No hunting is permitted on Sunday. A fact not generally known is that under the law the fish and game commissioner shall use not less than one-third of the money received from the sale of licenses in the purchase and distribution of quails and other wild game for the purpose of stocking the state.

When land owners agree to maintain a closed season on their land for a prescribed number of years, they are furnished birds for such reserves. Hundreds of farmers have taken advantage of this feature of the law to propagate quails and pheasants.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 10.—Fred Garner, charged with the murder of Mrs. Elsie Cochrane, was held to the grand jury without bail at the examining trial last night. The strongest testimony against him was given by Mrs. Gene Miller, of Victoria, Texas, who returned from that state to testify against him, after he had denied that he had ever heard of the woman.

Six hundred thousand men, women and children applauded Hubert Latham, the daring French aviator, who, in his bird-like Antoinette, flew north and south, east and west, over the business blocks, factories and homes of Baltimore and won the prize of $5,000 offered by the Baltimore Sun for the accomplishment of this feat, viewed by all airmen as one of the most hazardous ever attempted by an aviator.

BREWERS GAVE THE LEADERS A HARD STRUGGLE

Centlivre Five Lost to the White Fruit House in Warm Series.

SCHEDULE TONIGHT.

Fox Brothers and Heidelbergs.

The Centlivres gave the White Fruit House five a merry chase for the series in the First Brunswick league last night by taking the opener and losing the second by the narrow margin of two pins. In the third game the leaders ran away, as both Hills and Reynolds rolled their best scores and tied for high. Hills won the average by half a dozen pins.

Ed Harkenrider doubled in his first and second games and had the best total and average of the performance. The clubs have adopted the new rule of the American Bowling congress providing that all match games be started by each team on the same alley. It has been the custom heretofore to switch and the local bowlers did not know of the rule until a few days ago. The scores:

St. Joe Athletic Club Frames Big Bill for November 21.

Jack Roberts has been secured by the St. Joe Athletic club to meet Jack Redmond as the top liner for the boxing exhibition to be staged at the Princess rink on the evening of November 21.

Both are good boys and Redmond has fought some of the best men in his class and is looked upon as one of the coming boxers of the country. Their meeting will be a ten-round affair, which will form part of a bill that looks good on paper.

Spike Kelly, of Chicago, and Frankie Nelson, of Los Angeles, are down for the semi-final in the exhibition and this also promises some good boxing as they have shown good form in all of their appearances.

Kid Murphy, of Cleveland, and Jimmy Hayes, of Fort Wayne, will box six rounds and Kid Sosin and Jack Tescula will supply the curtain raiser in a four-round engagement. The club has been framing up the bill for a long time as the opening wedge in the winter schedule and has endeavored to get good talent.

YINGLING IS CAREFUL.

Expects to Have a Good Season at Cleveland.

Earl Yingling is not shining on the gridiron this fall and neither will he become a moleskinned hero before the end of the season.

Earl goes to the Naps next season and is very ambitious to become their star southpaw. Hence the former Vet's name will not appear in the summaries of any foot ball game this year.

He will take no chances on becoming injured and ruining his base ball career.

Boxing Contest at Saengerbund Hall Tomorrow Evening.

From the interest evinced by the sport lovers of Fort Wayne the boxing contests at Saengerbund hall tomorrow evening will be witnessed by an enthusiastic audience.

The main event is ten rounds between Milt Kinney and Frak Coakley, while the big feature is hard pressed by the semi-final between Glen Coakley, a younger brother of Kinney's opponent. This young man has never had an opportunity of appearing before his own townsmen, as all his engagements have been in other parts of the state. There he has gained much praise from the sporting public and writers for his cleverness as a boxer. Two other excellent bouts are on the card and in them the fans will see in action such local favorites as Frank Mason, "Young" Black, "Young" Hayes and "Kid" Taylor.

The evening's sport is under the auspices of the Fort Wayne A. C. and as in their previous bouts, clean sport is guaranteed.

Marshal Detects Woman Tinkering With Jail Padlock.

Chrisman, Ill., Nov. 10.—Mrs. A. J. Jarred, of this city, was arrested yesterday because she tried to release her husband from the town jail by chopping off the padlock of the outer door. The town marshal came upon her when she had almost succeeded and was telling her husband, who had been arrested for drunkenness, "to come on home."

In the second Brunswick league games the Meyer Brothers bowlers cleaned up a full series on the Weinand Lunch five and had little trouble adding three games to their winning. Two doubles were registered. Brase rolled 217 in the second game and cribbed the best count of the session and Quinn, with 208 for a start, got high individual score for his club. Bartels and Smyser, however, won the averages. The scores:

MEN ARE IN CONDITION.

Coakley and Kinney in Shape for Their Match Tomorrow.

If reports from the training camps of Milt Kinney and Frank Coakley are to be relied upon both men are in fine fettle for their go at Saengerbund hall tomorrow and they promise a rattling good mill. Coakley put up a game battle the last time he met Kinney, but lost the decision after some hard fighting and his followers boast that he will give a better account of himself in this meeting.

Glen Coakley and Jimmy Kelly are down for the semi-final bouts and two others will be placed on the card.

Jack Coombs, who did the heavy hurling for the Athletics, is now listed in the city directory of Kennebunk, Maine, if that burg is fortunate enough to boast of such luxury. It is generally supposed that Jawn is a real Maine stater, but such is far from being the case, as Le Grande, Iowa, claims Mr. Coombs as its favorite son.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10.—Back in the old days they called him Bad Bill and Bill and a lot of other harsh names. The flight of time has done much to change him, notably his waistline and his title, until today it's William Dahlen, manager of the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers. Wise men of the game style Dahlen one of the greatest base stealers that ever honed a spike. The players call him a jolly good fellow.

Bill knows baseball backward, forward and both ways from the middle. And well he should, for the veteran is the last survivor of the old guard, having been in the National league continuously since 1891. Of those who entered the National league in that year with Dahlen, Cy Young, of the Cleveland Naps, is the only one now in the game who has always earned his salary in fast company. Dahlen got his start after being signed by the Chicago club in 1890.

The following year he played his first game on the West Side club. After sticking with the local machine until 1899 he was traded to Brooklyn for Gene De Montreville, present field captain and assistant manager of the New Orleans club. For five years Dahlen burned up the National league as a member of the Trolley Dodgers until traded to the New York Giants for Charley Babb and Jack Cronin. In 1908 and 1909 he was with Boston, and this year was appointed manager of the Brooklyn club to succeed Judge Lumley, who later was turned over to Binghamton.

Only a short time ago Elmer Flick, one of the veterans of the American league, was sold by the Cleveland club to Kansas City, of the American association, calling to mind the fact that for several years the young circuit has been weeding out the veterans until today there are few originals left in the ranks.

New blood has gradually but surely been taking the places of the men who were in their time among the most famous ball tossers the game has ever known.

Of those who were in the American league when it dropped the name of Western league and in 1900 assumed the more expressive title, only one remains in the ranks who has been continuously in service around the circuit. That is our old comrade, Norman (Kid) Elberfeld, captain of the Washington club. Others now in the league who were in it in 1900, but who at divers times have flitted out of it, only to return, are Charley Hemphill of the New York Yankees, Topsy Hartsel of the champion Athletics and Widow Conroy of the Washington club.

The American league received its greatest boost in 1901, following the announcement that Jimmy Collins of Boston, Nap Lajoie of Philadelphia, Joe McGinnity of Brooklyn and Clark Griffith of Chicago, had jumped over the traces of the National league to unite forces with the younger circuit. Of these only Lajoie remains in the league.

Others who were 1901 recruits and are still in the harness are Freddie Parent and Billy Sullivan of the Chicago White Sox, Lou Criger of the New York Highlanders, and Cy Young of Cleveland. With the exception of Billy Sullivan, not one of Griffith's Chicago champions of 1901 is now in the American league. Of the champion Athletics of 1902, Eddie Plank, Danny Murphy, Harry Davis and Harisel are the survivors. Davis is the only infielder in the league of the title-winning teams prior to 1909 who is still playing his regular position.

President Comiskey has worked wondrous changes in his once great fielding machine. Take the team of five years ago. Many of the stars who fought in the world's series have passed from the circuit. Donahue, Davis, Altrock, Patterson, Isbell, Hahn, all have said their last farewells to make room for younger and faster talent. Of the Boston champions of 1903 and 1904 not one is now a member of the team controlled by John I. Taylor and few are still in the league.

When Wee Willie Keeler, now of the Giants, was tendered his unconditional release last winter by President Frank Farrell, of the Yankees, the last of the original New York American league team of 1903 departed. Stallings, the late lamented manager of the Yankees, applied the finishing touches in the weeding out task by releasing Jack Kleinow last spring to the Boston Nationals. Jack joined the Highlanders in 1903.

Sad experience has taught present-day managers that standing pat on their teams is a mistake. The tendency now is to get young blood in the lineup, even if heroic measures are necessary. Today the Boston Red Sox, controlled by John I. Taylor, are contenders for a pennant simply because the team has been riddled, picked to pieces and reconstructed within the last two seasons.

Rebuilding has proved a huge success with the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Highlanders. Even in Cleveland, where the idea, "once a star, always a star," has long prevailed, there is talk of a new team with most of the regulars, excepting the mighty Lajoie, doomed to feel the ax.

That the Cubs will come in for a lot of rebuilding next season is the general belief of veteran baseball men. President Murphy and Manager Chance already have started work along this line, and while in California the P. L. will map out the line of procedure to govern after the club enters the spring training camp at New Orleans.

Sporting News in Tablets

Dr. Harley Parker, well known as a semi-pro pitcher for several years and later as a successful physician, has opened a thirst parlor in Chicago.

Roger Bresnahan is back at Toledo for the winter and has next year's pennant all but hanging to the Cardinal's flag pole.

Hans Wagner said a broken rib kept him from winning the automobile given the best major league batsman. Then he went out and bought a new 1911 machine, so what's the difference.

Malachi Kittredge, half owner of the Saginaw team, has announced that the Saginaw club will take a month's spring training tour through the south, landing in Michigan on the eve of the 1911 opening.

Hans Lobert is considered the fastest man in base ball by many of the players in the National league, and Harry Lord and Ty Cobb are regarded as the two fastest men in the American league.

Paddy Livingstone, of the Athletics, already is seeking an investment for his world's series money. His home is in Cleveland and he has been looking around for over a week for a home where he can plant his $2,062 of the big melon.

Columbus fans believe they'll have a winner next season with Rube Waddell in line. Infielder Blake, secured from St. Louis along with the famous "Rube" is said to be a world beater in the minors, but not ripe for the majors.

King Cole, the only Cub pitcher to hand the Athletics a jolt in the recent world's series, is helping his father-in-law pull stumps off some Michigan pine land. The exercise is plenty hard enough for any one and his friends think the Cub youngster will be able to pitch every day next year if he keeps up his stump pulling work all winter.

Manager Jennings, of the Detroit Tigers, is going to conduct a sliding school in the training trip next spring. Ty Cobb, past master of the art, will be chief instructor. The inside fadeaway, the outside fadeaway, the headlong dive and all the other slides known to the profession will be carefully demonstrated by the teacher. A nice pile of white sand will be provided for the practice.

Stanley Robison was in Cincinnati the other day for a conference with Garry Herrmann and when the Cardinal magnate came out of the room he predicted the controversy between Herrmann and Fogel, over the big trade, would be amicably settled. Perhaps he had just been assured by the Red boss that the quarrel was only for a little press advertising.

SPECIALIST

I Cure Pelvic, Nervous and Chronic Diseases

FREE EXAMINATION AND REDUCED FEES

For the purpose of enabling the thousands of sufferers to obtain the services of a skilled specialist and to prove the advantages of my modern methods in the cure of Pelvic, Nervous and Chronic diseases, I will make an exceptionally low fee in all cases I accept for a cure between now and Nov. 12. This is an exceptional opportunity that you cannot afford to neglect if the cost is any object to you, and is especially intended for those who cannot afford to pay the regular prices for skilled work.

Others Treat, I Cure.

This is an age of progress. In the last few years many inventions have been produced that have very materially advanced the world's progress. This has been made possible by subdividing the work and specializing in order to give more time and study to the perfection of details. This is absolutely necessary in order to fully develop any given line of work; as the deeper we go into the study of any problem the more intricate and complicated it becomes until at last it becomes too much for one man to develop, and then must be again divided. Not long ago electricity, and its uses, were considered comparatively simple. Edison, seeing vast possibilities in it, began a close study, and his inventions together with those who have followed up this line of work have produced results so wonderful that they have revolutionized the whole world.

What is true in mechanics is true in all other industries. Not long ago it was supposed that the general practitioner of medicine was capable of thoroughly handling all diseases; but as we progressed it was found that the diseases were so numerous and their proper treatment so complicated that it was impossible for any one man to successfully cope with them all; hence it became necessary in order to give the proper time and study to them, to specialize on a single disease or group of diseases, which on account of their location or relationship were naturally allied to one another.

I have for years made a special study of PELVIC, NERVOUS and CHRONIC DISEASES and have perfected methods that will cure these diseases which a short time ago were thought to be incurable. There are many thousands of people today that are living lives of suffering and torture, because of some deep seated and chronic affliction that will not yield to the ordinary methods of treatment. Hundreds of satisfied patients in and around Fort Wayne have testified to my ability to cure these DEEP SEATED diseases, and are now well and happy. WHY NOT YOU? My charges are as reasonable as any one could expect for honest scientific work, and what are a few dollars compared with good health?

If you had the wealth of Croesus and all the worldly goods that money could buy, without health you would be miserable. I have been in Fort Wayne a good while and have established a permanent residence here, and the hundreds of successful Cures I have made since coming here, and the fact that I never accept for treatment any case I think incurable, has established a confidence in the public that any doctor would be proud of.

As a matter of comfort to yourself, do you think you can afford to suffer longer when you can be cured? As a matter of business you know that you can not.

Why suffer longer? Why not call at my office now and be convinced? Get rid of the shackles of disease and enjoy life as you should. If you can be cured, I will cure you. If you cannot be cured I will tell you so, as I not only have no time to waste on incurable diseases, but I absolutely do not want money for something I do not do. I can give you plenty of references among some of the best people in Fort Wayne and within a radius of one hundred miles. Many doctors are sending me their difficult cases, knowing that their patients will receive proper treatment. Can any references be better?

I learn the exact condition of the rectum, the bladder and every organ of the genito-urinary system. This in itself is of the highest importance, inasmuch as a broken-down nervous system and many more of the troubles of the STOMACH, LIVER, HEART, KIDNEYS, ETC., are reflex and are the direct results of some PELVIC LESION OR DISEASE.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, RUPTURE, PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without knife and without detention from business.

BLOOD POISON—I use only the most advanced methods in the treatment of blood poison and kindred diseases.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases quickly cured.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT results from inflammation. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent. of the cases.

MOB OF MEXICANS IN ATTACK ON AMERICANS

Tears Down Flag and Assaults Citizens in Streets.

Mexico City, Nov. 10.—Hurling imprecations at all citizens of the United States and threatening the lives and property of those residing in this city, a howling, maddened mob of Mexicans yesterday afternoon tore down an American flag, trampled it in the dust of the street, spat upon it and pulled it to shreds.

The rioters made a number of open assaults on Americans and attacked buildings occupied by them. The demonstration was a continuation of that begun Tuesday night when the office of the Mexican Herald, an American paper, was stoned.

As a result of the rioting a vigorous protest was registered by the American ambassador with the Mexican department of foreign relations and at the same time the facts were telegraphed to Washington and instructions asked for.

Night Brings New Riots.

Last night the attacks were renewed. Windows in a dozen American business places were broken. All about town shutters were hurriedly drawn and establishments closed. Forces of police appeared in the streets and kept the crowds moving.

The flag incident occurred while the police looked on and seemingly made no effort to check the rioters. The banner, floating in front of a candy store in the business district, was torn down by a crowd of several hundred medical students and others, trampled and spat upon and torn to bits.

Later photographs of the crowd were taken before the office of El Diarce Del Hogar, a Mexican newspaper, with many individuals waving bits of the tattered banner.

The demonstrations of yesterday and Tuesday night were the result of antipathy among the people at the burning at the stake of Antonio Rodriguez, at Rock Springs, Texas, on the night of Nov. 3.

Publication of violent attacks on Americans by several Mexican papers, tended to further incense the medical students, who were the promoters of Tuesday night's demonstration.

Paper's Attack Bitter.

El Diarce Del Hogar was particularly violent in expressions of animosity toward the people of the United States, characterizing them as "giants of the dollar, pigmies of culture and barbarous whites of the north," and asking, "Where is the boasted yankee civilization?"

Shortly before noon a crowd assembled before the new Juarez monument in the Alameda and proceeded to the municipal palace, where several rioters who were arrested last night were being examined by the authorities. A company of mounted police followed in the wake of the crowd.

From the palace the students marched through Avenida San Francisco, the principal business thoroughfare of the city, stopping in front of the candy store where the flag incident occurred.

Auto Man Beats Mob.

The mob increased as it moved. It marched to the offices of the department of foreign relations, making demonstrations on the way against American business places and breaking windows in the San Francisco hotel.

Jack Davis, an automobile repair man, had a hand-to-hand encounter with a dozen members of the crowd when they attempted to tear the top from his automobile and enter his establishment. He knocked several of his assailants to the pavement and drove them from his place.

At the head of Juarez avenue, around the famous statue of the Iron Horse, speeches were made denouncing all Americans, and a passing street car conveying school children to the American school was stoned. One child was struck and severely injured. The windows of the car were shattered.

Among others who were assaulted were the son of Ambassador Wilson and William Marshall, an employe of the National railway.

An attack was made upon the plant of El Imparcial and the mailing and distributing departments on the ground floor were completely wrecked. For twenty minutes the mob battered at the heavy doors leading to the editorial and composing rooms above with heavy timbers and then fired the wreckage.

Mounted Police Charge.

The mounted police charged with drawn swords. One of the attackers was run through and killed. The others fled. An alarm, turned in from the offices of the paper, brought the fire department to the scene before the flames gained headway.

During the progress of the student about the city, Governor Landay Escandon, of the federal district, Chief of Police Feliz Diaz and Joaquin Casasus, former ambassador to the United States, followed in automobiles. In a speech at the municipal palace, Governor Landay spoke words of approval of the students' protest, but cautioned them against violence.

Ambassador Wilson, in his note to the foreign office, described the occurrence as a disgrace to the city and to the Mexican people and expressed surprise that, insamuch as his office had warning in advance of the proposed demonstration, the Mexican authorities had none, or, having it, took no action to prevent them.

Foreign Minister Creel said to reporters last evening that every effort would be made to punish those guilty of offering insult to the flag.

ENVELOPES FOR POST CARDS.

How a Clever Girl Keeps Her Souvenir Collection in Order.

(New York Evening Sun.)

What to do with accumulating post cards which are continually arriving is a question with most persons. Albums multiply and take room, and loose cards kept in boxes or baskets are always out of the order in which the occasion requires when they are to be shown. One girl has found some stiff paper envelopes with bellows bottoms and tape fasteners and is using a series of them for various kinds of cards. The envelopes she keeps in one side of a big desk and when for any reason a card is wanted it can be found instanter, because it is among cards of its own kind. Those belonging to entire trips that she herself has taken or that friends have been on are together and are ready if company is interested in the places visited. The envelopes are kept by stationers, but if the exact size is not to be found they may be made to order at small cost.

These envelopes, which are familiar to business and professional offices, are useful in more ways than one. They make excellent files for pictures, clippings and even for patterns and odds and ends for the sewing room. All the different threads and silks used in embroidery and fancy work may be kept in this way, so that a hand may be laid upon them in a second and pieces of silk and materials for fancy work or for dolls' clothes—anything at all that is not too large for the envelopes. A drawer into which the envelopes just fit, standing in rows is a convenience when they are needed in a hurry. They should be carefully labeled. If the label is done with pencil it can be changed.

WHAT IS A HUSBAND?

One of our Los Angeles judges had an opportunity to decide a deathless and momentous question one day last week. But he evaded the issue.

A woman came into court asking a divorce. She said she got all dressed up to go to a ball and her husband, who was there, insisted upon dancing every dance with her. When she declined to fill her dance program with home products, he called her out doors and struck her.

The court weakly ducked the real issue by granting her the divorce because she had been assaulted. A woman judge would have given her a divorce on account of the dance program.

Do you think that a woman rigs herself all out in her war paint and fastens on a jane and a lot of puffs and a switch and a rat and hangs a bundle of winer wursts under one side of her hat, and blackens her eyebrows and pinches her ear lobes and rose-lips her mouth and powders her nose and sticks on a piece of courtplaster and jams her feet into leather boxes that nearly kill her and yanks in her waist until she bulges out at the top—do you think that she goes to all that trouble to dance with her husband and talk between dances about baby's croup and having the leaky roof mended?

Nay, and also not.

A husband is not a recreation; he's a meal ticket. The duty of a husband at a ball is to smoke up the host's cigars; "knock" the refreshments and come in on signal to dance with his wife when she's in danger of looking like a wall flower.

We need women judges on the bench.—Exchange.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Cecil Leon and Florence Holbrook in "Bright Eyes," Tuesday.

Cecil Leon and Florence Holbrook, two of the cleverest and best known fun makers on the American stage, are this season again playing the principal roles in "Bright Eyes," Jos. M. Gaites' new musical play, which they originated last season. The play was put on about the middle of last season and with the exception of one or two other cities remained until late in the spring in Boston and New York. This season it will play a few of the principal cities between the Atlantic and the Mississippi, being announced as the attraction at the Majestic theater, for an engagement of one night, November 15. The play is by the authors of "Three Twins," Charles Dickson having written the book, Otto Hauerbach the lyrics, and Karl Hoschna the music. The play is based on the popular farce "Mistakes Will Happen" and the story is complete and logical, a thing seldom found in musical comedies. To fit this story Mr. Hoschna has written some very pleasing and tuneful melodies and Mr. Hauerbach's lyrices are bright and clever. The large chorus, which is incidental to the story, has been selected carefully for the ability of its members as well as for their beauty and Mr. Gaites states that he believes it is one of the strongest singing and dancing choruses ever sent out of New York. The play has been given a complete and elaborate scenic setting and there have been introduced a number of novel and elaborate mechanical and electric effects. Each chorus girl makes at least ten changes of costume during the play and the principals are also elaborately costumed.

Back Again—"The Merry Widow" to Visit Us Next Wednesday.

The announcement is made by the Majestic theater representative that "The Merry Widow" will return next Wednesday evening. This will be an interesting announcement for the theater-goers, for it is doubtful if ever any musical attraction in the history of theatricals has scored the unqualified success that "The Merry Widow" has. It has been called a musical duel of first love, full of music, scenery, gowns, girls, with love the keynote; for "The Merry Widow" is a love story, exquisite and tender, passionate and imperious at times, as true love ever is; the eternal struggle of sex with sex attuned to limpid strains and the trip of dancing feet, lyric and dramatic in its expression. This, with a gorgeous setting and a splendid company, headed by Gertrude Hutcheson and George Damerel, is expected to set the heart of the theater-goers aflame.

As to the music, the "Waltz" has traveled around the world more quickly, perhaps, than any melody ever written, yet this catchy "I Love You So" selection is only one of the many that breathes the very essence of voluptuous grace in this brilliant work. Others are "Villa," the delicious septette "Women," the gay "Maxim," cloying in its sweetness and recurring in varied tempi throughout the opera. The large orchestra accompanying this organization will be under the direction of Mr. Frank Mandeville.

"Wildfire" Tonight.

One of the features of the delightful racing comedy, "Wildfire," which will be the popular attraction at the Majestic this evening and Friday and Saturday, is the remarkable display of beautiful gowns worn by the dashing comedienne, Luella Morey, who will be seen as the sporting widow, Mrs. Barrington. It is safe to say that Miss Morey is one of the most perfectly proportioned women on the stage, and her first appearance is invariably greeted with a flutter of delighted "Isn't she beautiful" remarks from the auditors. Matinee will be given on Saturday.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks." Dreier Bros.

The first of the series of winter entertainments provided by the committee of Fort Wayne lodge No. 116, Knights of Pythias, will be held this evening.

Freckle-Face

If the Fall Winds Brought Out Unsightly Spots, You Can Remove Them Easily.

Do you know how easy it is to remove those ugly spots so that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength, from Meyer Brothers Co. and one night's treatment will show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion.

Now that the Fall winds have brought a crop of freckles to most women, there is an unusual demand for Othine and in November the druggist sometimes finds it difficult to get sufficient to supply all calls.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as it is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

THE SHOP AND RAIL NEWS

JOHN HOLLOWAY DIES SUDDENLY

Attacked by Heart Disease While at Work in Office.

INSPECTING THE GRAND RAPIDS ROAD

General Manager Hughart and Staff Coming Here Tomorrow.

Local Wabash officials and employes were shocked last night by a telegram from St. Louis conveying news of the death of A. R. Holloway, who was associated with them in railway work in Fort Wayne two or three years.

Mr. Holloway was chief clerk to Storekeeper H. M. Regnier, of the Decatur division of the Wabash system, with headquarters in Decatur. For two weeks Mr. Holloway was engaged in some special work for the supplies department, which took him all over the system. He was here last week several days, combining business with a visit with old friends, and went to St. Louis early this week. According to the information carried in the telegram, he dropped dead without warning in the office of Purchasing Agent T. J. Frier, in St. Louis, at 5 o'clock last evening.

To his Fort Wayne friends Mr. Holloway was known as "John" and very few of them knew his real name. He came here from Delray, Mich., about five years ago, when E. L. Ensel was division storekeeper of the Wabash, and remained here until Mr. Ensel resigned, about two years ago, when he went to Decatur to take a similar position. Before coming to the Wabash, Mr. Holloway was employed several years in a clerical way with the Erie at Huntington. He was about forty years old, unmarried and leaves a father, mother and a sister, residing in Huntington. The remains will be taken to that city for interment.

HEAR OF RELATIVE'S DEATH.

A telegram from Bingen, Ind., last night brought to Louis E. Rehling and Charles Hess, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, news of the death of their father-in-law, William Brockmeyer, which occurred yesterday at his farm home. Mrs. Rehling and Mrs. Hess went to Bingen a day or two ago when their father became ill, and their husbands went there this afternoon to remain until after the funeral, which will be held Sunday afternoon from St. John's Lutheran church at Bingen. Mr. Brockmeyer was one of the most highly respected men of that community and had long been a resident of Adams county.

STILL SHORT ON HELP.

Master Car Builder J. A. Graham, of the Pennsylvania, said this morning that the car department was still short on help, notwithstanding the fact that a number of employes have been added to the force recently. There are positions open to car repairmen, helpers and laborers and employment will be steady. This morning Fred W. Karnap was given employment in the car machine shop, with Foreman P. J. Scheid.

TRANSFERRED TO DUNKIRK.

E. E. Dildine, who came here to vote and to attend to some private and railway business, will be transferred to Dunkirk Saturday, to inspect engine work at the Brooks locomotive shops. He will be detained there until February. Mr. Dildine has been similarly employed at the American Locomotive works at Pittsburg three or four months, but he completes work there this week. His family is with him.

SMASHED THE GATES.

Pennsylvania Special, No. 29, was unable to stop at the usual place at the Gay street bridge this morning, owing to the slippery conditions of the rails, which were wet, and pushed ahead until the engine struck and broke the gates about 200 feet east of the Wabash crossing. No injury was done to the engine.

PUTTING IN CONCRETE FLOORS.

The men engaged in track elevation for the Wabash commenced putting in the concrete floor in the bridge over Calhoun street under the north track. They will finish this bridge tomorrow afternoon, but no trains will be allowed to pass over it for two weeks. Then trains will cross the street on that track and the others will receive their concrete floors.

EIGHT NEW EMPLOYES.

The Wabash shops added a number of new employes to the force this morning, among them being E. J. Ehrmann, a machinist, and the following helpers, John Kronmiller, Roy Patterson, William Elx, George D. Seibert, Henry Fitzenreiter, C. J. Van Horn, Simon Rouland and C. M. Fetterspell.

ABOLISHES AN OFFICE.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 10.—The Pennsylvania railroad company has abolished the office of general agent here and put William Penn, traveling agent of Des Moines, Iowa, in charge as district passenger agent.

His Foot Was Bruised.

H. E. Sutten, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, had a foot bruised yesterday when a piece of casting fell upon the member. Fortunately no bones were broken and the injured man will soon be at work.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. J. Hubbell, a G. R. & I. brakeman, is sick and off duty.

O. J. Leffer and C. Traik, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

E. W. Mitchell, a painter at the Pennsylvania shops, is hunting in the vicinity of Packertown, Ind.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, was in the city today on business connected with track elevation.

George Bacht, a boiler maker's helper at the Wabash shop, resumed work this morning. He was hurt several days ago.

Chief Dispatcher D. H. Caldwell, of the Nickel Plate, is looking after some business for the company in Cleveland today.

Mrs. F. A. Kleinrichart, whose husband is a Pennsylvania car builder, will be the guest of friends in Chicago over Sunday.

R. E. Sarver, of the Pennsylvania, has returned from the east, where he spent two or three days on business for the company.

The L. E. & W. and the Lake Shore companies handled the Candy Girl theatrical company from Bluffton to Angola yesterday.

J. H. Batchelder, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, was summoned home yesterday by a message stating that his wife was very ill. He is still off duty.

E. A. Gould, assistant to the president of the C., H. & D., who with his wife has been visiting her relatives in Peru, left that city today for his home in Cincinnati.

General Manager D. C. Moon and General Superintendent H. A. Bloomer are making a trip over the Lake Erie and Western lines in Indiana, traveling on an observation engine.

Hammersmith Owen Barry resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania shops this morning. He was off duty a day or two on account of the machinery of the hammer being out of repair.

Teamster Wolf, who purchased the Waida property on Erie street some time ago, is tearing down the old carpenter shop and will erect two or three dwelling houses on the grounds.

Roy Hackman had his left forearm cut yesterday in a most painful manner while at work in the Rolling mills. He is at his home on Portage avenue, under the care of the mills' surgeon.

Machinist Robert Haberkorn, of the Pennsylvania round house, has invited a dozen or more of his friends to a game supper Saturday night and is now in the vicinity of Claypool in the effort to get the game.

Robert Hinkle, the Wayne Shoe company employe, who had a hand lacerated two weeks ago, did not have to suffer the loss of any part of it, as was feared at first. He left the St. Joseph hospital yesterday and went to his home.

Peter Nichter is off duty from the Pennsylvania machine shop. He hurt one of his hands some days ago and reported for work yesterday. The wound was not sufficiently healed, however, and he is compelled to take a longer lay off.

The Pennsylvania pay car will be in the city November 17, 18 and 19, paying the most of the employes on the 18th. The distribution of cash this trip will be large, as business on the road and work in the shops in October was unusually heavy.

The Wabash has forty Italians at work at track laying in the vicinity of Lagro, where twenty-five miles of old rails are being replaced by new and heavier ones. The old rails will be used to replace worn out rails on sidings.

October traffic of the Wabash is reported to have broken all monthly records with 234,248 car loads, compared with the previous record of 217,156 last March, when coal traffic was very heavy, anticipating a coal strike. Officials of the Wabash estimate October earnings at $2,805,000, or about 6 per cent gain.

J. Copstick, whose resignation as traffic manager for the Noble Machine company was mentioned by The Sentinel several days ago, has taken a similar position with S. F. Bowser & Co. Mr. Copstick was connected with the freight department of a railway a number of years and none is better informed in traffic matters than he.

Carl Blair, a Wabash brakeman, passed through the city yesterday en route to the Peru hospital. He had a foot injured at Montpelier by having the member caught in a frog and run over by a car. Jerry Grubb, a switchman, is also in the Peru hospital. He had a hand lacerated and sustained some contusions on the head while at work in Peru.

George F. Hall, a New York Central engineer, well known to the craft throughout the country on account of the part he has taken in brotherhood affairs, died at his home in Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday. Mr. Hall was the engineer on the Twentieth Century limited when some speed records were broken. He had been on the New York Central forty years.

The Pennsylvania railroad announces a record breaking achievement in the way of an engine pulling a big load. It was a test of the traction power of an H-8-B locomotive and it pulled a train of 120 steel cars 127 miles in nine hours and thirty minutes, including all stops. The train was 4,888 feet long and without the engine it weighed 8,860 tons. The cars carried 6,450 tons of coal.

The Friendly Hand division of the O. R. C. at Peru, of which some of the local Wabash employes are members, has elected the following officers: M. L. Ray, chief conductor; A. B. Rothwell, assistant; G. W. Fletcher, secretary-treasurer; F. G. Hassett, senior conductor; J. W. Carmack, junior conductor; Walter Smith and J. H. Carpenter, sentries, and D. E. Shea, delegate to the grand lodge convention in 1912.

Capt. H. C. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police force, who also has charge of the crossing watchmen, made some changes in the forces at Broadway and Fairfield avenue this morning. John Leffers, one of the watchmen at the Broadway crossing, this morning went into the erecting shops to work as a helper. Fred Wheizler, of Fairfield avenue, was transferred to Broadway; Frank Gruber, of the round house, was transferred to Fairfield avenue as a watchman and Albert Moyer and John N. Hannaway were hired as watchmen at Fairfield avenue. While track elevation work is in progress at Fairfield avenue, the Pennsylvania will keep four watchmen, two in day time and two nights, on duty there to look after the safety of the public.

What Money Spent at Home Will Do. An Object Lesson For Each of Us.

How a Husband Gave His Wife $20 and Still Had All of His Money Left.

Mr. Brown, a Kansas gentleman, keeps a boarding house. Around his table, on a recent occasion, beside himself, sat his wife, Mrs. Brown; the village milliner, Mrs. Andrews; Mr. Black, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter, and Mr. Hadley, a flour, feed and lumber merchant.

Mr. Brown took a $10 bill from his pocketbook and handed it to his wife,

Mrs. Brown, saying: Here is $10 of the $20 I promised you."

Mrs. Brown handed the bill to

Mrs. Andrews, the milliner, saying: "That pays for my new bonnet."

Mrs. Andrews in turn passed it on to

Mr. Jordan, to pay for carpenter work he had done for her.

Mr. Jordan handed it to

Mr. Hadley, to pay a bill for flour, feed and lumber.

Then Mr. Hadley returned the bill to

Mr. Brown, saying: "That pays $10 on my board."

Mr. Brown again gave the bill to his wife,

Mrs. Brown, saying: "You now have the $20 I promised you."

Mrs. Brown paid it to

Mr. Black, to settle her bread and pastry account.

Mr. Black handed it to

Mr. Hadley, to settle his bill for flour.

Then Mr. Hadley again paid it back to

Mr. Brown, remarking: "That settles my month's board bill."

Whereupon, Mr. Brown put the bill back in his pocketbook and had the same amount of money left that he had before he gave his wife $20.

The "Big Store" invites its customers to figure on this proposition, and if there is any flaw in the logic, let it know where.

Moral I. Pay your debt promptly and let the money go on down the line, paying half a dozen other debts.

Moral II. Trade at home. If the $10, when it was first paid out by Mrs. Brown, had gone to an out-of-town milliner, that would have been the last of it. The other debts could not have been paid and Mrs. Brown would have been short $10 of the $20 her husband had promised her. Is it any wonder that

Mrs. Brown says: "It pays to trade at home?"

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10.—Predictions of heavy shipments from India and the Argentine republic were instrumental in clipping down the price of wheat today. Dispatches from the latter country denied that the exportable surplus had been overestimated. Mild weather at Russian ports formed another bearish influence. The opening here was unchanged to ½c lower. May started at 94⅝c to 94⅞c, a loss of ¼@⅝c to ⅜@½c, but rallied to 94⅝c.

Fine weather and the bearish crop figures from the government caused free selling of corn. May opened ¼@⅝c to ½@⅝c down at 47⅞c to 48⅛c and fell to 47⅜@47⅝c.

Oats eased off with other grains, considerable selling being done by longs. May started ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c off at 31½c to 34¼c and receded to 34@34⅛c.

Provisions were firm on the advance in the hog market. First sales were unchanged to 10c up, with January at $17.65 for pork, $10.45 for lard and $9.35 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 10.—Stocks started at lower prices today than last night without regard to recoveries which had been established in the London market before the opening here. The declines were generally small and were mingled with some gains, but stocks were freely supplied and the dealings showed activity and variety. Westinghouse Electric lost 1 and St. Paul and Pressed Steel Car ¾. Chesapeake & Ohio and American Sugar rose ¾.

Stocks were fed to the market on rallies and prices broke again when large offerings appeared. Union Pacific, United States Steel, Rock Island and the local stocks lost. American Agricultural Chemical lost 1½, Rock Island and American Car 1¼, Delaware & Hudson, Illinois Central, International Harvester and American Woolen, 1. Distillers' Securities made a gain of a point. At noon the market had turned upward and was ruling at its best.

The temporary respite which the list had from the selling movement did not bring much relief and prices fell again under renewed selling pressure. Union Pacific and United States Steel were off 2 points and Reading 2⅝. Amalgamated Copper and American Car also broke 2 points. Southern Pacific 2¼, Anaconda 2⅝, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis 3, Allis Chalmers preferred 3¼, American Smelting 3⅝ and Central Railroad of New Jersey 4.

A price was made of 76 for United States Steel, which was 2¼ under yesterday's closing and 5⅜ points below the highest of last week. The subsequent rally did not amount to much and the whole market became dull. Some of the notable losses were: Westinghouse Electric 3½, Chicago Great Western preferred 3¼, the common 2, Northern Pacific 3, Kansas & Texas and Kansas City Southern 2¾ and Great Northern preferred, Colorado Fuel, Atlantic Coast Line, Norfolk & Western and People's Gas 2.

The market closed strong. There was a vigorous rebound when the bears began to buy to cover shorts and take profits. Reading rallied 2⅝, Union Pacific 1⅞, United States Steel 1⅜, St. Paul 3, Southern Pacific 2¼, and many others 1 to 1½. The rebound carried New York Central and Atchison a point higher than last night's close and National Railways of Mexico second preferred 1⅜.

BLAME TARIFF AND HIGH COST OF LIVING

New York Leaders Figure Out Reasons for Landslide.

New York, Nov. 10.—Those few republican leaders who have given their opinions of the election for publication attribute the democratic landslide to the tariff, Aldrichism and the high cost of living, all of which were charged up against the republican party.

"I do not view the result in a partisan spirit, or with a mere feeling of elation," Mayor Gaynor said. "I see in it a readjustment of those voters who are too intelligent to remain mere thick-and-thin partisans. The intelligence of the country is asserting itself.

"The one thing that most of all shows a returning moral sense in this state is that the United States senator to be elected by the new legislature will not be one who has been a mere lobbyist, or buyer and seller of laws, from his youth up."

In Fight for Progress.

Henry L. Stimson, defeated republican candidate for governor, said:

"I believe that this election is a mere incident in the fight for progress which will go on until its ends are attained. The leadership of the republican party is in the hands of progressives, and we do not propose to be discouraged by any temporary setback. Instead I feel confident that this fight appeals to all men of all parties who are looking forward and that eventually they will be found enrolled with us and fighting for the same ends."

Colonel Roosevelt refused to be seen by newspaper men. To inquiries he sent the word: "I don't want to be disturbed."

Henry George, Jr., who was elected to congress in New York city, said:

"I attribute the success of the democratic party to the high cost of living and the sentiment against a system of high tariff. It is, in truth, a rebuke of the republican party for failing to carry out their promises in legislation. The democrats will now have their day and an opportunity to fulfill their campaign promises and the pledges of their platform."

Pay Off Bets on Dix.

This was paying-off day for election bettors in Wall street. Not counting the transfers of cash that occurred at the Waldorf and other uptown hotels, more than $1,000,000 is known to have been transfered from one set of owners to another.

William Marko, representing one of the big stock exchange houses, is said to have handled more than $350,000. Fred Brooks, one of the old-time betting commissioners, was stakeholder and poster for nearly $350,000. William Titus, a curb broker, placed in all about $250,000. He won, in addition, about $25,000, and made in commissions on what he placed for others $2,500.

Titus had a market basket full of paper money and certificates before he finished his rounds of collecting, settling up and cashing in.

ENDS LIFE WITH A RIFLE WHILE DEMENTED

Henry Lothamer, a Wealthy Farmer, Commits Suicide.

While suffering from what is believed to have been temporary insanity, Henry Lothamer, 43 years old, a well-to-do farmer resident in Jackson township, seven miles north of Dixon, fired a bullet into his right temple at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, dying half a hour later.

The suicide occurred in the kitchen of the Lothamer home, and the weapon used was a target rifle of 22-caliber. Mrs. Lothamer and the children had gone to the barn to attend to some chores when they heard the report of the shot and hurried back to the house. The injured man died before medical assistance, which was summoned, could reach the house.

Lothamer had been acting queerly for some time, according to members of the family, and no other cause save mental derangement can be assigned as the cause for his deed. Lothamer is survived by his wife and eight children, as well as by his mother, Mrs. Magdalena Lothamer, who lives on a farm near her son's home.

ROUTES TAKEN BY BIRDS.

Animal Migration Shown By Maps Prepared By Bureau of Biology.

(Washington Star.)

A series of maps giving the spring migration courses of several species of American birds were shown for the first time recently by W. W. Cook, of the bureau of biology, department of agriculture.

The maps are the first of their kind ever made by professional ornithologists, and are particularly valuable as guides for further investigation in spring migrations because of the complete data given regarding the temperature and dates of arrival at various places in the northward trip to the summer habitat.

The spring migrations of the summer warbler, the black pole warbler, the cliff swallow, the Louisiana tanager and orioles were described at length as representing every peculiarly known in the spring travel of the North American birds.

Of the one hundred and more species that make their winter homes in South America several journey north by an entirely inland route through Central America and Mexico; others travel north as far as Yucatan and cross the gulf into the United States by way of Louisiana and Alabama, and still others make the long journey direct from the northern coast of South America across the West Indies to Florida.

The several species that make these journeys were represented in Mr. Cook's talk by the cliff swallow, the summer warbler and the black pole warbler. The cliff swallow is the slowest of the migratory birds, making an average of about fifteen to twenty miles a day, while the last mentioned bird is among the swiftest. At some stages of its flight north it averages 300 miles in each twenty-four hours.

"The starting of both the fall and spring migrations is purely physiological and not due to climatic reasons, as has been generally supposed," said Mr. Cook. "Another feature of these migration flights is the so-called influence of the wind. From data compiles in the southern sections of the country I have found that just as many birds continue their flight against the wind as with the wind."
